Jerry RICHARDSON

owner/founder

College:	Wofford College
Birthdate:	7/18/36
NFL:	15th Season
Panthers:	15th Season

Jerry Richardson is a native Carolinian whose dream was to bring NFL football and the world championship he knew as a player in the League to his home. With the Panthers entering their second decade, Richardson has firmly established the NFL into the Carolina landscape while dedicating his efforts to making the rest of his vision a reality.

On October 26, 1993, Richardson became the first former NFL player since George Halas to become an owner when the Carolinas were unanimously awarded the NFL's 29th franchise.

A lifelong resident of the Carolinas, Richardson and his wife, Rosalind Sallenger Richardson, have two sons, Jon and Mark, and a daughter, Ashley Richardson Allen, of Charlotte. The Richardsons have nine grandchildren and live in Charlotte.

Edited Excerpt from Johnny Unitas: America's Quarterback

A Lasting Impression

Jerry Richardson, a tall, shy receiver was one of the newcomers to the Colts in 1959. Like Unitas, he came from a small college. He had played college football in South Carolina at Wofford College, and Richardson always seemed to be explaining just where Wofford was.

There were approximately one dozen other receivers running around trying to make a lasting impression, one that would enable them to fill the sole spot on the roster. Richardson's chances were not exactly promising, being taken in the 13th round and the 153rd player overall.

Unitas saw the underdog in Richardson, who had married his college sweetheart, Rosalind Sallenger. When training camp opened for the 1959 season, Richardson had no way to get to practice, so Unitas helped him out. He picked him up in the front of the rented house every morning to drive him to camp. They got along fine. Unitas didn't talk, and neither did the rookie, which suited them both.

The Touchdown Catch

Late in the 1959 championship game, was Baltimore head coach Weeb Ewbank thinking of a field goal to give the Colts an eight point lead in the 4th quarter against the New York Giants? Richardson, the rookie receiver Unitas chauffeured during training camp was waiting to return the favor by bringing in the play that Ewbank wanted.

"I stood next to Weeb and looked at him for the play," recalls Richardson. "I finally asked him what the play was and he remarked, 'Just tell Unitas to score.'"

Given the opportunity to score a seemingly safe field goal or a touchdown Unitas would always go for the six points.

"Raymond Berry was split on the left and would make his cut into the middle underneath the linebacker. I lined up close to the tackle and would swing wide to the outside. It really was Berry's play all the way. He had done it a thousand times. But Unitas looked off Berry, and I looked around and saw the ball coming to me. I squeezed it tight and went into the end zone standing up. I never expected the ball and neither did the Giants."

The rookie's touchdown was the clincher. The Colts moved closer to the championship with a 21-9 lead.

NFL:	14th Season
Panthers:	14th Season

Now over a decade old, Bank of America Stadium remains one of the elite facilities in the country due to the dedication and care of Jon Richardson, President of Panthers Stadium LLC. In fact, with the "stadium-in-a-park" vision of the Richardson family, the stadium's eye appeal is greater now than when it opened. A statement that would be impossible without the meticulous watchful eye of Jon.

Although 20 stadiums have opened or undergone major renovations since Bank of America Stadium in 1996, any superlative list of facilities more often than not includes the home of the Carolina Panthers. However, the stadium is not limited to the pleasure of the fans. In its most recent survey the NFL players saluted the playing field as one of the top three in the League.

Jon has been in charge of Bank of America Stadium since Day One. Starting as director of stadium operations when construction began in 1994, Jon was promoted to president in 1997. A decade later, Jon remains vigilant in his commitment, overseeing a $5.5 million club level renovation in 2003, which met an enthusiastic reception, and the renovation and replacement of the playing field in 2004. In a quest to keep the facility state-of-the-art, Daktronics LED boards were installed from goal line to goal line in the seating bowl during the 2006 offseason.

From landscaping to the concession stands, where pricing remains among the lowest in the NFL, to the playing field and restroom facilities, there is no facet of the stadium's operation that does not receive Jon's attention. In 2003, Bank of America Stadium was one of the facilities cited when the National Building Museum named the NFL a recipient of The Honor Award in recognition of the important role that football stadiums have played in the physical revitalization of American cities during the past decade, as well as their architectural and engineering excellence.

The stadium is still used as a model by organizations and municipalities preparing to build their own facilities. With the club level innovations and stadium upgrades, Bank of America Stadium has remained an example for new construction more than a decade after its opening.

The first 11 seasons have often put Jon and the facility to the test with 110 sellouts in the 112 NFL games played in the stadium, including playoff contests in 1996 and 2003. Both have consistently passed with honors as they have done since opening in August of 1996. Under Jon, quality has been the goal from the start and, at a cost of approximately $187 million, privately funded Bank of America Stadium has proven to be a bargain by any assessment. With generous ratios of concession points of sale to an above-average ratio of restroom facilities, the stadium has proven to be convenient for fans since its inception. Bank of America Stadium still remains a model for stadium design and innovation.

In addition to hosting over 100 Panthers games since 1996, the facility has accommodated a variety of events, ranging from the Rev. Billy Graham's 1996 Carolinas Crusade to the Rolling Stones "Bridges to Babylon" tour. It also has been the site for a number of college football games as well the men's NCAA College Cup soccer game for two years and U.S. Women's World Cup soccer team exhibition matches in 1999 and 2000. The past five years have seen the stadium host the Meineke Car Care Bowl, one of the most successful start-up bowl games in NCAA history.

Jon was a three-year letterman and two-year starter at wide receiver for the University of North Carolina, where he led the team in receptions in 1981. His success with the Tar Heels earned him a training camp tryout with the Baltimore Colts in 1982. After receiving his degree in economics in 1982, Jon spent three years in the food industry before returning to North Carolina to earn his MBA in 1987.He then began A-OK Home Services in Chapel Hill and sold the successful enterprise after five years. In 1994, he joined the Panthers.

Jon is a trustee at Fork Union Military Academy. He and his wife, Kathleen, have a son, Johnson, who is a sophomore at Wofford, where he plays football, and two daughters, Rose and Claire, and live in Charlotte.

Birthdate:	7/29/60
NFL:	15th Season
Panthers:	15th Season

Whatever the barometer – performance on the field, marketing, television ratings, attendance, or stadium naming rights – the Panthers have been one of the NFL leaders under the stewardship of team president Mark Richardson. Mark has been at the heart of the franchise long before there was a nickname, uniforms or stadium and has played a central role in the development of virtually every facet of the organization, while emerging as a leader not only of the Panthers, but the National Football League.

Employing a philosophy that merges family business principles with contemporary marketing, the Panthers reflect a unique blend of traditionalism and state-of-the art technology under Mark.

In ESPN The Magazine's fan satisfaction ranking of all professional sports teams, the Carolina Panthers have been in the top twelve two of the last three years. The team's training camp at Wofford College was included in the top five for fan friendliness by Peter King of Sports Illustrated. The Panthers television ratings throughout the Carolinas have spiked upward, increasing any where from 60 to 85 percent over the last five years.

On the field, the team's 49 wins since 2002 are seventh most in the NFC and are one of five teams to reach the final week of the season in playoff contention the last four years. In January of 2006 The Charlotte Observer wrote, "The team's success has binded a region, erasing state lines like politicians and civic leaders have been unable to do."

Richardson's philosophy is a combination that has enabled the team to be innovative and maintain the values of his family. Bank of America Stadium's reputation as one of the foremost sports venues in the country is a reflection of Mark's commitment to providing the best for Carolina's supportive fan base. From location to financing, he played an integral role in the stadium's origins. When the cost of a stadium and a franchise appeared prohibitive, he helped identify the Permanent Seat License concept that is now commonplace in the sports world. He also guided the land acquisition and contributed to a construction process that was so ideal it has been honored by the National Building Museum for urban revitalization, design excellence and civic pride. In 1996, Mark broke marketing ground when he negotiated one of the first naming rights agreements in League history with Ericsson. The renaming of the stadium to Bank of America Stadium occurred on the eve of Carolina's 2003 NFC Championship Game and reinforced one of the strongest sponsorship agreements in the National Football League.

In addition to being one of the nation's finest venues, Bank of America Stadium has also been one of the best attended with the Panthers selling out 110-of-112 games. The marketing success is further validation for many of the early franchise decisions in which Mark played a lead role, including the design of the team uniforms and development of the award-winning logo. The Panthers have been at the forefront of business development in the NFL, becoming one of just three teams to bring its radio and television packages in-house.

He has served seven years on the prestigious NFL Competition Committee after being described by the former Commissioner Paul Tagliabue as "an individual who brings something special to the committee's task". Mark's evolution as a League leader continued when he also was named to the NFL Network Operations Committee and the Broadcast Committee.

In addition to earning an undergraduate degree in business administration from Clemson University in 1983 and an MBA from the University of Virginia in 1987, Mark has an athletic background that includes playing for Clemson's 1981 National Championship football team and ACC Championship teams in 1981 and 1982. Born July 29, 1960, Mark has lived in the Carolinas most of his life. He now resides in Charlotte and is active in the community as a board member of several organizations, including the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce and Charlotte Regional Partnership. He is also a member of the Clemson University College of Business and Behavioral Science Advisory Board. Mark has a son, Ace, and a daughter, Raven.

head coach

College:	San Diego State
Birthdate:	2/8/55
NFL:	19th Season
Panthers:	6th Season

Taking over a one win team five years ago, John Fox averaged nearly ten wins a year in his first five seasons as head coach. It is a remarkable turnaround, and the Panthers 49 victories during that span ranked as the seventh most in the NFL.

Fox has directed Carolina to two playoff appearances, two NFC Championship games and a Super Bowl in five seasons. In that time, the Panthers compiled a 49-38 overall record, easily making him the winningest coach in franchise history.

In doing so, he also has put his name alongside some of the game's coaching hierarchy with the following achievements:

- The Panthers four consecutive playoff road victories under Fox tied the NFL record held by the Dallas Cowboys under Tom Landry.
- With four postseason road victories, Fox trails only Landry (seven) and Joe Gibbs (five).
- In guiding the Panthers to the Super Bowl in 2003, Fox joined Vince Lombardi and Bill Parcells as the only coaches in NFL history to inherit a one-win team and guide it to the playoffs two years later.

Those accomplishments only begin to tell Fox's story. The 41 wins in his first four years more than doubled the Panthers total in the previous four seasons (20).

His impact was immediate. In his first season, Carolina improved its record by six games, from 1-15 in 2001 to 7-9 in 2002. The six-game improvement was the best in the NFL that season and the best jump for a rookie head coach since the League instituted the 16-game schedule in 1978.

That success laid the foundation for his second season as the Panthers, a consensus last-place preseason selection, stunned the experts by winning the NFC South before advancing to the Super Bowl with playoff wins versus Dallas, at St. Louis and at Philadelphia. The victory over the Rams ended a 14-game St. Louis home winning streak in the fifth-longest overtime game in League history.

The 2004 season saw Fox at his best as injuries derailed a promising season, and the Panthers were mired in last place midway through the season at 1-7. Faced with a depleted roster and the greatest adversity of his short head-coaching career, Fox responded by leading Carolina to six wins in the final eight weeks, narrowly missing a second consecutive playoff berth.

The strong finish set up another playoff run by Carolina in 2005 as the Panthers recorded an 11-5 regular season mark to make the NFC postseason as a Wild Card. Once again, Fox was at his best when his team had to win the final week on the road at Atlanta and responded with a 44-11 victory. Then came road playoff wins against the New York Giants and Chicago Bears before a loss in the NFC Championship game at Seattle.

In 2006, the Panthers lost three starters in the opening week but managed an 8-8 record to provide back-to-back non-losing seasons for the first time in team history.

His success is no surprise to those who know him best, particularly Panthers general manager Marty Hurney, who worked with Fox at San Diego in the 1990's.

"He has it," says Hurney. "He has great people skills. He listens to everybody, and he has defensive expertise. He has a tremendous presence. When he walks down the hall, he affects everybody."

Working with defensive coordinator Mike Trgovac, the Panthers five-year record under Fox is a confirmation of that expertise. In that period, Carolina ranked fifth in yardage allowed, fourth in yards allowed per play, sixth in first downs and rushing yards allowed and 10th in third down efficiency.

It was those intangibles, combined with a thorough knowledge of the game, that led the Panthers to Fox in 2002. And the fruits of Fox's labor are evident on every level.

The salary-strapped roster he inherited has been revamped with some of the best talent in the NFL. Defensive end Julius Peppers has appeared in three straight Pro Bowls, wide receiver Steve Smith in two consecutive Pro Bowls and defensive tackle Kris Jenkins in two under Fox's tutelage.

Changing the mindset was equally important and possibly more challenging as improving the personnel. After going 3-16 in games decided by three points or fewer from 1999-2002, the Panthers tied an NFL record with seven victories by three points or less in 2003. Seven times they drove for the game-winning score in overtime or with less than two minutes remaining in regulation during the regular season.

The groundwork for his success was laid at the first meeting Fox conducted with his team in the spring of 2002.

"He told us that we weren't tough enough to win in this League, and that is not something you are used to hearing as an NFL player," said former defensive tackle Brentson Buckner.

The Panthers opened Fox's first season with a 10-7 victory over Baltimore, ending the long losing streak and setting the tone for a season that would include several milestones:

- The six-game improvement was the largest in the NFL in 2002, and only two previous rookie head coaches had a more significant impact on their team's record since the NFL implemented a 16-game schedule in 1978, Jim Haslett in 2000 and Bobby Ross in 1992.
- Carolina's defense became the only unit since the NFL merger in 1970 to improve to second in the NFL in overall defense after placing last the previous season.
- The Panthers ranked in the top five of 10 different defensive categories, leading the NFL in rushing yards per attempt and sacks per pass play, ranking second in third down efficiency and third in first downs allowed per game.
- The 52 sacks recorded by Carolina in 2002 doubled the total of the previous season and is the second-highest in team history.

Since that first season, Fox and Hurney have continued to massage the Panthers roster, replacing one of the oldest rosters in the NFL with a young nucleus.

Only six starters - wide receiver Steve Smith and fullback Brad Hoover on offense and Mike Rucker, Mike Minter, Kris Jenkins and Dan Morgan on defense - remain from the team Fox inherited.

Better talent has only been part of the equation. Fox also has demonstrated an ability to keep players together in difficult times. That was never more evident than the 2004 season when the Panthers became just the third team since 1990 to finish with seven wins after starting 1-7 and the sixth team since 1974 to follow up a 1-7 start with seven victories.

In the face of losing Smith, Jenkins and running back Stephen Davis, Fox fell back on a couple of his favorite euphemisms: "Everybody starts out a nobody," and "If we didn't think you were good, you wouldn't be here."

The words proved prophetic as former free agent running back Nick Goings responded with five 100-yard games, rookie wide receiver Keary Colbert caught 47 passes and Travelle Wharton another rookie, stepped in as a starter on the offensive line.

In Fox's rookie season as head coach, the Panthers started 3-0 but lost eight consecutive games mid suspensions, injuries and assorted setbacks. Though on the ropes, Carolina never buckled under Fox and rallied to win four of its final five games.

After an 8-2 start in 2003, the Panthers slipped into a three-game losing streak. However, Fox again steadied the ship and Carolina regrouped to win its final three games and the NFC South division.

The team's first playoff appearance since 1996 resulted in some of the most memorable moments in team history. Hosting the NFC Wild Card game against Dallas, the Panthers won convincingly 29-10, accumulating 380 yards against the NFL's top ranked defense while not committing a turnover or a penalty.

A week later, the Panthers played the fifth-longest game in League history, topping St. Louis 29-23 in the second overtime to stop a 14-game home winning streak by the Rams. A week later Carolina won its first NFC Championship by defeating Philadelphia 14-3 on the road.

Fox culminated a 20-year odyssey when he was named head coach of the Carolina Panthers on January 26, 2002. Regarded as one of the top defensive coaches in the National Football League, Fox proved to be the right choice at the right time for the franchise. Production, work ethic, enthusiasm and high energy were ingredients he brought to Carolina.

It is fitting that Fox achieved his opportunity the old fashioned way, beginning as a graduate assistant in 1978 and making 12 stops in 17 years before being named defensive coordinator of the New York Giants in 1997. Seizing that opportunity, he annually produced highly regarded units for the Giants, known for their all-out play as well as their production.

His style and philosophy are as grounded as his career path to Carolina. It is a combination that caught the Panthers attention. For in Fox, the son of a Navy SEAL, they found a man whose passion for the game is matched by the zeal of his players on the field.

If Fox coaches with a passion, it could be that he has something to prove after so many stops. Boise, Idaho. Ames, Iowa. Lawrence, Kansas. They were all on his resumé before reaching the NFL as a secondary coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1989. Even then he stayed on the move - San Diego 1992-1993, Oakland 1994-1995, St. Louis 1996 - before reaching the Giants as defensive coordinator.

At New York, the accolades began to build, reaching a crescendo in New York's shutout of high-powered Minnesota in the 2001 NFC Championship Game. The Vikings entered the game averaging more than 25 points while passing for nearly 260 yards per game. Against Fox's defense, the totals were zero points and 60 yards through the air.

It was a performance that had been building in the regular season. In that season, New York allowed only 62 first downs rushing, well below the NFL average of 98. Three opponents gained less than 200 total yards. However, it was the consistency that characterized his units. During five years as coordinator, New York had 153 takeaways, the seventh-highest total in the NFC. The Giants also had a plus 25 turnover differential that ranked third in the conference and fourth in the League over the period. Pass pressure was another trademark of Fox's units. Under his tutelage, New York recorded 230 sacks, ranking third in the NFL. In 2001 Michael Strahan set a League individual record with 22.5 sacks.

Similar to Carolina, Fox's impact was immediate upon his arrival in New York. In 1997, Fox orchestrated a defense that led the NFL and set a club record in takeaways with 44, leading the League in interceptions with 27. That edition of the Giants defense finished tied for third in the League in sacks with 54, the fourth-best total in team history. The defense was second in the NFC against the run at 90.7 yards per game and held opponents to 20 or fewer points in 12-of-16 games, including 10 or less in six of those contests.

Fox was honored as Pro Football Weekly's Assistant Coach of the Year. However, his success as a coordinator did not begin with the Giants.

Before serving as a consultant to the Rams in 1996, he engineered the Oakland Raiders defense to a 10th place finish in total defense in 1994 and 11th in 1995.

Before joining Oakland, Fox was the secondary coach under Bobby Ross at San Diego in 1992 and 1993. Fox started his NFL coaching career with the Pittsburgh Steelers as a defensive back coach from 1989-1991, overseeing the top rated pass defense in 1990.

Fox moved to the Steelers from the University of Pittsburgh, where he served as defensive coordinator and secondary coach for the Panthers from 1986-1988. In each of his three seasons, the Pittsburgh pass defense was statistically ranked among the top 10 in the nation.

Prior to his three-year stay at Pittsburgh, Fox made eight moves in as many seasons as he worked his way through the coaching ranks, including a foray in professional football with the Los Angeles Express of the USFL in 1985.

Starting as a graduate assistant at his alma mater of San Diego State in 1978, Fox became an assistant at United States International University a year later and made a succession of moves to Boise State (1980), Long Beach State (1981), Utah (1982), Kansas (1983) and Iowa State (1984).

A native of Virginia Beach, Virginia, Fox was born February 8, 1955 and grew up in the San Diego area after moving at age 15. He attended Castle Park High School in Chula Vista and played football at Southwestern Junior College in Chula Vista (1974-75) before going to San Diego State, where he played defensive back for the Aztecs. He graduated from San Diego State with a bachelor's degree in physical education and earned a secondary education teaching credential in 1977.

Fox and his wife, Robin, have three sons: Matthew (11/5/87), Mark (12/4/90) and Cody (2/21/92), and a daughter, Halle (12/27/99).

Along with his football accomplishments, Fox has been a community leader in the Carolinas. He and Robin co-chair the annual Angels & Stars Gala benefiting St. Jude Children's Research Hospital and are frequent participants in community charity fund raisers.

Jim SKIPPER

assistant head coach/running backs

College:	Whittier College
Birthdate:	1/23/49
NFL:	20th Season
Panthers:	6th Season

COACHING: Resourcefulness and ingenuity are only two of the characteristics that led John Fox to promote Jim Skipper to assistant head coach, but they may be the two that have served him best as running backs coach since 2002. Skipper has had to deal with injuries and setbacks annually during his tenure, but at the end of the season, his position is one of the most productive on the team.

Five of Carolina's top seven rushing seasons have come under Skipper. The 1,659 yards in 2006, including a team record 242 rushing yards against St. Louis, broke the previous team mark of 223-yards in the NFC Wild Card game against the New York Giants a year earlier. Whether Stephen Davis, DeShaun Foster, Nick Goings, DeAngleo Williams or Brad Hoover, Skipper has coaxed the best out of the Panthers running backs.

His best effort may have come in 2004 when Carolina started four different players at halfback because of injuries. Foster recorded a 100-yard rushing game, and Hoover rushed for 99 yards in his only start at halfback. During the last eight games of the 2004 campaign, Goings, a former undrafted free agent, recorded five 100-yard rushing games.

Since joining the Panthers, Skipper has used eight different starting halfbacks, and six of those have produced 100-yard contests. With a healthy backfield contingent in 2003, Skipper coached the Panthers to a team record 2,091 yards rushing while helping Davis set a club individual record with 1,444 yards on the way to a Pro Bowl season. During his first year in Carolina, Skipper nurtured the Panthers running game to a 214-yard improvement over the 2001 campaign despite losing starter Lamar Smith after 11 games and Foster for the season in training camp.

A coaching veteran with more than 30 years of experience, including 19 in the NFL, Skipper came to Carolina after spending four years with the New York Giants and 2001 as head coach of the XFL's San Francisco Demons. He began his NFL coaching career as running backs coach with the New Orleans Saints in 1986 and served in that capacity through 1995. During his 10-year tenure with New Orleans, Skipper coached two Pro Bowlers, Rueben Mayes in 1986 and 1987 and Dalton Hilliard in 1989. Mayes' 1,353 yards in 1986 and Hilliard's 1,262 in 1989 still stand among the 10 highest single-season rushing totals in Saints history.

Skipper moved to Arizona in 1996 and coached with the Cardinals for one season, in which fullback Larry Centers was named to the Pro Bowl.

Following his stint with the Cardinals, Skipper assumed the same role with the New York Giants from 1997-2000. In his first season with New York, the team finished seventh in the NFL in rushing with an average of 124.3 yards per game. As an XFL head coach, Skipper led the Demons to a 5-5 record and a playoff berth, advancing to the league championship game.

Skipper entered coaching as the defensive backs coach at Cal Poly-Pomona in 1974 before joining San Jose State in 1977. He switched to offense as running backs coach at Pacific in 1979 and then coached running backs at Oregon from 1980-82. Skipper made his foray into the professional coaching ranks with the USFL's Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars from 1983-85.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A graduate of Whittier College, Skipper played defensive back and also served as a kick and punt returner for the Poets. Born January 23, 1949, in Breaux Bridge, LA, he grew up in Brawley, CA. Skipper and his wife, ElMarie, have three sons, Kelly, Timmy and Courtney. Kelly is the tight ends coach for the Oakland Raiders. Timmy, who is the running backs coach at Fresno State, played linebacker at Fresno State from 1997-2000. In a unique distinction, Skipper coached running back Lorenzo Neal at New Orleans, and Skipper's son Kelly coached Neal's son in college at Fresno State. DeShaun Foster also was coached by Kelly at UCLA.

HISTORY: Defensive back Whittier College 1971-72. College coach: Cal Poly-Pomona 1974-76, San Jose State 1977-78, Pacific 1979, Oregon 1980-82. Pro coach: Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars (USFL) 1983-85, New Orleans Saints 1986-95, Arizona Cardinals 1996, New York Giants 1997-2000, San Francisco Demons (XFL) 2001 (head coach), joined Panthers in 2002.

offensive coordinator

College:	Ohio State
Birthdate:	10/3/67
NFL:	13th Season
Panthers:	1st Season

COACHING: Jeff joined the Panthers as offensive coordinator after two seasons in Cleveland following a most successful eight-year stint at New England. While with the Patriots, he contributed to four division titles, five playoff appearances, three conference titles and three Super Bowl championships as the tight ends/assistant offensive line coach from 1997-2004.

Over those ten years he has experienced challenges of every nature in preparation for a full season as an offensive coordinator. His units in Cleveland were decimated by injuries while the time in New England was characterized by remarkable stability. Davidson met both with the same resolve.

His success with the Patriots took Jeff to Cleveland in 2005 as offensive line coach, and his impact was immediate when he helped the Browns break a twenty-year drought without a 1,000 yard rusher. Reuben Droughns easily eclipsed that milestone with 1,232 yards behind an offensive line, which included three new starters.

The offensive line was bludgeoned with injuries in 2006 as Davidson's role was expanded six games into the season when he was named offensive coordinator. Despite the setbacks, tight end Kellen Winslow and wide receiver Braylon Edwards had breakthrough seasons with 89 and 61 receptions, respectively.

A member of New England's staff in 2004, he and offensive line coach, Dante Scarnecchia, worked with a unit that saw only three lineup changes during the entire season as the Patriots won Super Bowl XXXIX. The Patriots proved adept running and passing as Corey Dillon rushed for 1,535 yards and quarterback Tom Brady was sacked only 26 times, sixth fewest in the NFL. Meanwhile, the New England tight ends, under Davidson's tutelage, combined for 11 touchdowns and nine pass plays of 20 yards or more.

His coaching career with the Patriots was characterized by such play from the tight ends as well as the offensive line. As tight ends coach in 1997, he helped Ben Coates emerge as the team's reception leader with 66, which secured a Pro Bowl berth. He moved to assist on the offensive line for four seasons but again saw his duties expanded to include the tight ends in 2002 and tripled the receiving production for the position from the previous season.

Davidson began his NFL coaching career in 1995 as a volunteer assistant with the New Orleans Saints. A year later he was named offensive assistant, responsible for the breakdown of game tapes, opponent scouting and self scouting in addition to maintaining a number of on-field coaching responsibilities.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: His coaching success is an extension of his playing career. A fifth-round draft choice of the Denver Broncos in 1990, Davidson moved into the starting lineup in his second season. He started 16 games in 1991 at left tackle and every game the following season at left guard. After signing with the Saints in 1994, a shoulder injury seven games into the season ended his career. Prior to the NFL, Davidson earned All-Big Ten honors as a senior and was a four-year letterman at Ohio State.

A native of Akron, Ohio, Jeff was born October 3, 1967 and attended Westerville North High School, where he earned Parade All-American honors as a senior. Jeff and his wife, Judi, have two sons, Nicholas and Alexander.

HISTORY: Offensive Tackle Ohio State 1986-89. Pro Offensive Lineman: Denver 1990-1992, New Orleans, 1994. Pro coach: New Orleans 1995-1996, New England 1997-2004, Cleveland 2006-2006, joined Panthers in 2007.

defensive coordinator

College:	Michigan
Birthdate:	2/27/59
NFL:	13th Season
Panthers:	6th Season

COACHING: If a coach is evaluated by his body of work, Mike Trgovac has compiled an impressive resume since joining the Panthers in 2002. During that period, the Panthers rank 5th in total yards allowed trailing only Tampa Bay, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Denver. They are also sixth in first downs allowed and rushing yards allowed per attempt, ninth in rushing yards allowed per game and 10th in third down efficiency.

The 2006 season did nothing to hurt that standing as Carolina finished in the top ten in nine different defensive categories to continue their recent history of excellence under Trgovac. That performance came on the heels of a season in which the Panthers finished third in the League in yards allowed, fifth in points allowed and first in takeaways with a team record 42. Overall, Carolina finished in the top ten of 10 different defensive categories while advancing to the NFC Championship game in 2005 for the second time in three years with Trgovac as defensive coordinator. Saving their best effort for the postseason, the Panthers became the first road team in more than 25 years to post a shutout, when they held the New York Giants to 132 yards in a 23-0 victory.

That success followed an impressive 2004 season in which Carolina lost a Pro Bowl defensive tackle and started three defensive backs who combined for less than a year of NFL starting experience but still led the League with a team-record 26 interceptions and ranked second in the League with a club-record tying 38 take-aways. The manner in which it was reached reflects on Trgovac's ability to adapt. With only nine take-aways at midseason, Carolina recorded 29 in the final eight games, reduced its opponents' yards per rushing attempt by nearly one yard in the second half of the year and finished fourth in the NFC in yards allowed per rushing attempt.

Under his tutelage in 2003, Carolina finished in the top ten of 10 different defensive categories, including yards per game, yards per play, sacks per pass play, first downs per game, third down efficiency and, most important, points allowed. In the postseason, the Panthers forced four turnovers and limited the Philadelphia Eagles to a field goal in Carolina's 14-3 NFC Championship victory.

As defensive line coach in 2002, Trgovac laid the groundwork for his elevation to defensive coordinator. The promotion was well-earned considering the dramatic improvement of Carolina's front four. The Panthers defensive line ranked third in the NFL with 39 sacks and was the linchpin of a defense that led the League in sacks per pass play and rushing yards per attempt. Under Trgovac's guidance, Julius Peppers became the first player in team history to be named NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year, and tackle Kris Jenkins was selected first-team All-Pro by The Associated Press.

Prior to joining Carolina, Trgovac spent two seasons as defensive line coach at Washington, where he helped guide a Redskins defense that ranked fourth in the NFL and first in the NFC in 2000. He joined the Redskins in 2000 after serving as the Green Bay Packers defensive line coach in 1999. Prior to that, he spent four seasons as the Philadelphia Eagles defensive line coach from 1995-98. In 1998, the Eagles finished third in the NFL in sack percentage and first overall against the pass. Trgovac's 1995 line recorded an NFL-best 42.5 sacks.

Before entering the NFL, Trgovac coached 11 years as a defensive line coach on the college level, beginning in 1984 as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Michigan. Following two seasons with the Wolverines, he coached at Ball State from 1986-88, Navy in 1989, Colorado State from 1990-91 and Notre Dame from 1992-94, where he was an assistant to head coach Lou Holtz.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: As a player under Bo Schembechler at Michigan from 1977-80, Trgovac started three years at middle guard and was second-team All-America as a senior. He earned All-Big Ten honors twice and played in three Rose Bowls. An All-State football player at Fitch HS in Austintown, OH, he was named defensive lineman of the year in 1976 and won the state heavyweight championship in wrestling. A native of Youngstown, OH, Trgovac and his wife, Angela, have two children, a daughter, Jordan, and a son, Michael. His last name is (pronounced TER-guh-vack).

Danny CROSSMAN

special teams coordinator

College:	Pittsburgh
Birthdate:	1/17/67
NFL:	5th Season
Panthers:	5th Season

COACHING: Special is a good adjective for Danny Crossman, who continues to oversee three of the best specialists in the NFL. Kicker John Kasay, punter Jason Baker and snapper Jason Kyle form the nucleus of a unit that has traditionally ranked among the best in the League. Already excellent, Kasay has only improved under Crossman's eye over the past two years, and Baker has set back-to-back team records for net punting average.

Despite a transition through injuries and losses that impacted the return game in 2006, Carolina's special teams under Crossman remained among the leaders in coverage and the best overall with Kasay and Baker.

In 2005, his first season as head special teams coach of the Panthers, Crossman nurtured the unit to one of its best seasons. The Panthers ranked ninth in the comprehensive Dallas Morning News ratings on the strength of a second place finish in punt coverage and a seventh place in kickoff coverage. That success came despite the loss of a Pro Bowl punter, but Crossman tutored newcomer Baker to first place in the NFC in net punting with an average 38.9 yards.

Crossman was named special teams coach in 2005 after serving as an assistant in the professional and college ranks. His 2003 NFL debut proved to be a resounding success as the NFC Champion's special teams units finished second in the ratings by the Dallas Morning News. Playing an integral role in that success, Crossman assisted with both the special teams units and the strength and conditioning program.

He came to the Panthers from Michigan State, where he served in 2002 as the Spartans linebackers coach and special teams coordinator, and brought an impressive resumé to Carolina. Prior to working at Michigan State, Crossman coached three seasons at Georgia Tech from 1999-01, serving as the special teams coordinator and defensive ends coach his first two years prior to tutoring the defensive backs and contributing as special teams coordinator in 2001. In 1999 and 2001, the Yellow Jackets ranked among the NCAA leaders in kickoff return average, net punting average and punt return average. Crossman coached two first-team All-ACC specialists in kicker Luke Manget and kick returner Kelley Rhino in 2001, and his special teams units led the ACC in kickoff return average and punt return average in 2000.

Crossman entered coaching at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy in 1993, where he coached the defensive backs and special teams. He moved to Western Kentucky from 1994-96, handling special teams and the secondary for two seasons and the outside linebackers in 1996. Crossman then joined Central Florida as the defensive backfield and special teams coach from 1997-98.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Crossman earned three letters at the University of Pittsburgh, helping the Panthers to a combined record of 22-12-1 and appearances in the 1987 Bluebonnet Bowl and 1989 Sun Bowl, after transferring from Kansas following his freshman season. He started 11 games at fullback for the Panthers as a junior in 1988 and rushed for 273 yards and two touchdowns. Crossman was named team MVP and earned second-team All-America honors as a senior in 1989, recording 62 tackles and one interception from his strong safety position. At Kansas, he made eight starts at defensive back and posted 48 tackles and one interception to garner freshman All-America honors in 1985. He spent parts of two seasons in the NFL with Washington in 1990 and Detroit in 1991. Crossman played two years from 1991-92 with the London Monarchs of the World League of American Football. He intercepted three passes in the inaugural World Bowl in 1991, returning one interception 20 yards for a touchdown, to earn MVP honors as London shut out Barcelona 21-0. Crossman earned his bachelor's degree in business administration and communications from Pittsburgh in 1990. He and his wife, Susan, have a son, Kyle, and a daughter, Kaylie.

HISTORY: Defensive back Kansas 1985, fullback/defensive back Pittsburgh 1987-89. Pro defensive back: London Monarchs (WLAF) 1991-92. College coach: U.S. Coast Guard Academy 1993, Western Kentucky 1994-96, Central Florida 1997-98, Georgia Tech 1999-01, Michigan State 2002. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2003.

Geep CHRYST

tight ends/offensive quality control

College: ..... Princeton
Birthdate: 6/25/62
NFL: ..... 15th Season
Panthers: ..... 2nd Season

COACHING: A 15-year veteran of the NFL, Chryst is in charge of the tight ends during his second Panthers season as well as serving as the team's quality control assistant for the offense.

It's a different challenge for Chryst but one for which coaching stops with the Chicago Bears, Arizona Cardinals (twice) and the San Diego Chargers have left him more than prepared. Prior to coming to Carolina, his most recent experience was quarterbacks coach of the Cardinals from 2001-2003, where he was reunited with quarterback Jake Plummer. Under Chryst in 2001, Plummer threw 18 touchdown passes and just 14 interceptions after having 45 passes picked off the previous two seasons. Plummer had only two interceptions in his final 245 passing attempts and none in a span of 142 consecutive throws.

With Chryst in 1998, Plummer ranked 4th in the NFL in passing, and the Cardinals won their first playoff game in 51 years. In Arizona he also played a role in the development of Josh McCown, who finished the 2003 season as the starter and led the Cardinals to a dramatic victory over the Vikings on the last play of the season.

Chryst spent five seasons (1991-1995) with the Chicago Bears as director of research/quality control, three seasons in Arizona working with tight ends (1996-97) and quarterbacks (1998) and two years as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach in San Diego before returning to Arizona in 2001.

While with the Chargers, he was instrumental in the implementation and development of San Diego's productive no huddle offense in 1999. During that season, the Chargers completed the most passes (332) in 13 seasons and quarterback Jim Harbaugh enjoyed the second-highest passing production of his 15-year NFL career and became the first quarterback in team history since Hall of Famer Dan Fouts to pass for 400 yards in a game. Three times Chryst has been a part of an offense that has ranked in the NFL top ten in rushing and three more times he has been involved in an offense ranked in the NFL top 10 in passing.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Chryst was a three-year starter at linebacker and a two-year baseball player at Princeton, where he earned a bachelor's degree in history. He added a master's degree in educational administration from Wisconsin. His wife, Shelley, played volleyball at Wyoming and on the beach in the WPVA in 1994. She was also an assistant volleyball coach at Northwestern (1994) and Wisconsin-Milwaukee (1995). They are the parents of three children - sons, Keller and Jackson, and daughter, Gillian.

Ken FLAJOLE
linebackers

College:	Pacific Lutheran
Birthdate:	10/4/54
NFL:	10th Season
Panthers:	5th Season

COACHING: Change and a consistently high level of play usually do not go together, but Ken Flajole annually merges the two very effectively while working with the Panthers linebackers. Once again in 2006 he proved to be a master improviser and an integral part in Carolina's seventh place defensive ranking in the League.

With Thomas Davis playing his first season at linebacker and Na'il Diggs a newcomer to the team as starters, Flajole lost linchpin middle linebacker Dan Morgan in the first game of the regular season. Nevertheless, the Panthers performed at a high level throughout the season.

Last season marked the fourth straight year that Flajole had to cajole the best out of a different starting lineup, and he faces a similar situation in 2007 with the departure of Chris Draft.

In 2004, two of Flajole's linebackers - Dan Morgan and Mark Fields - were named to the Pro Bowl. In his first season, Carolina advanced to the Super Bowl, where Morgan set a team record with 25 tackles.

Coming to Carolina in 2003 from Seattle as a defensive assistant, Flajole was pressed into duty during training camp to assist Sam Mills with the Panthers linebackers. To the credit of both men, the linebacking corps remained a team strength despite the season-ending loss of Fields with illness and injuries at the middle linebacker position. Among the linebacking superlatives were Morgan's club record 25 tackles in Super Bowl XXXVIII and Will Witherspoon's career-high 114 regular-season tackles, second-highest on the team.

Flajole replaced Sal Sunseri as defensive assistant in 2003, bringing with him five years of NFL coaching experience. He spent three seasons as defensive backs coach and one as linebackers coach with Seattle from 1999-02 and one as a defensive assistant with Green Bay in 1998. As defensive backs coach for Seattle in 1999, Flajole's secondary led the NFL with 30 interceptions, including two that were returned for touchdowns. He spent the 2000 campaign as the Seahawks linebackers coach and returned to oversee the defensive backs in 2001 and 2002.

Before entering the NFL as a defensive quality control assistant with Green Bay in 1998, Flajole spent 21 years coaching in the college ranks. He served as Nevada's co-defensive coordinator/secondary coach for two seasons from 1996-97. His 1996 defense finished first in the conference in total defense, scoring defense and passing defense.

Prior to his duties at Nevada, Flajole held coaching positions at several other universities, beginning with his alma mater, Pacific Lutheran, from 1977-78, and then Washington in 1979. Other stops included Montana from 1980-85, Texas-El Paso from 1986-88, Missouri from 1989-93, Richmond in 1994 and Hawaii in 1995, holding defensive coordinator positions at Montana and Richmond.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: An All-Conference linebacker at Wenatchee (WA) Valley Community College and Pacific Lutheran, Flajole earned a bachelor's degree in education from Pacific Lutheran in 1976. Born October 4, 1954, in Seattle, Flajole and his wife, Teri, have two daughters, Kelly and Kori.

HISTORY: Linebacker Wenatchee (WA) Valley C.C. 1973-74, Pacific Lutheran 1975-76. College coach: Pacific Lutheran 1977-78, Washington 1979, Montana 1980-85, Texas-El Paso 1986-88, Missouri 1989-93, Richmond 1994, Hawaii 1995, Nevada 1996-97. Pro coach: Green Bay Packers 1998, Seattle Seahawks 1999-2002, joined Panthers in 2003.

Mike GILLHAMER

secondary/safeties

College:	Humboldt State
Birthdate:	2/20/57
NFL:	8th Season
Panthers:	4th Season

COACHING: In three seasons as safties coach for the Panthers, Gillhamer has turned subtraction into addition in the face of turnover. During that time, the Panthers have had three new starters while continuing to rank among the League leaders in pass defense.

Assuming responsibilities of the Panthers safeties in 2005, Gillhamer's task quickly became more difficult with the loss of returning starter Colin Branch in the preseason. Undaunted, he replaced Branch with Marlon McCree, who played an integral role in the Panthers finishing 3rd in NFL defense.

Gillhamer faced a similar challenge again last season with the departure of McCree in free agency, but Shawn Williams moved into the spot beside Mike Minter and the Panthers finished fourth in pass defense and seventh overall. Without Williams returning in 2007, Gillhamer is again being asked to perform addition by subtraction.

It is no wonder that since his return to the NFL in 2004, Gillhamer has become a valuable member of the coaching staff. In his first season, his tutelage played a role in a Panthers defense that led the NFL with a team-record 26 interceptions and ranked second in the League with 38 take-aways, a figure that tied the team mark. In addition to finishing third in total yardage in 2005, the Carolina passing defense was ninth in overall pass defense, fourth in yards per pass and fifth in percentage of passes intercepted while picking off 23 aerials en route to the playoffs.

Armed with four years of NFL coaching experience and 21 seasons on the college level, Gillhamer came to Carolina after spending 2003 as the defensive coordinator and safeties coach at Louisville. Prior to working at Louisville, Gillhamer served as the secondary coach for two years at Oregon from 2001-02. In 2001, Oregon finished second in the nation, and the Ducks were Fiesta Bowl Champions.

Gillhamer began his NFL coaching career as an offensive assistant with the New York Giants in 1997, contributing on the same staff as Carolina head coach John Fox. He assisted current Panthers running backs coach Jim Skipper with the Giants running backs during his first three seasons before taking over as the running backs coach in 2000.

Gillhamer broke into coaching at the College of the Sequoias in Visalia, CA, from 1979-83, overseeing the defensive line for one season before coaching the defensive backs for the remainder of his tenure. He then was the defensive backs coach at Weber State in 1984, Utah from 1985-89 and San Jose State from 1990-93. Gillhamer moved to Nevada from 1994-95, where he handled the secondary his first season and served as the defensive coordinator for one campaign in 1995 and worked as the secondary coach at Rutgers in 1996.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Gillhamer played defensive back at Carroll College in 1972 and at Wenatchee Junior College in 1973. He was named the team's most valuable defensive back in 1975 at Humboldt State. He also played baseball and ran track for the Lumberjacks. After graduating with a degree in physical education from Humboldt State in 1976, he received his master's degree in special education from there in 1981. Gillhamer and his wife, Tammy, have two daughters, Meagen and Taylor.

HISTORY: Defensive back Humboldt State 1974-75. College coach: College of the Sequoias 1979-83, Weber State 1984, Utah 1985-89, San Jose State 1990-93, Nevada 1994-95, Rutgers 1996, Oregon 2001-02, Louisville 2003. Pro coach: New York Giants 1997-2000, joined Panthers in 2004.

Tony LEVINE

special teams assistant/ asst. strength and conditioning

College:	Minnesota
Birthdate:	10/28/72
NFL:	2nd Season
Panthers:	2nd Season

COACHING: Levine joined the Panthers as assistant special teams and strength and conditioning coach in 2006 from the University of Louisville, where he played an integral role in the Cardinals success for three seasons. Levine works with special teams coach Danny Crossman and strength and conditioning coach Jerry Simmons and has assisted in the continued development of punter Jason Baker.

Levine came to Carolina after three successful years at Louisville during which the Cardinals posted a 29-8 overall record, including an 11-1 record and a #6 national ranking in 2004, as well as an appearance in the 2006 Gator Bowl. Levine began as director of football operations in 2003, where he was responsible for the overall day-to-day operation of the school's football program in Coach Bobby Petrino's first year as head coach.

In 2004 he was named special teams coordinator and outside linebackers coach and made an immediate impact. Under Levine's tutelage, the Cardinals ranked near the top in Conference USA in almost all special teams statistical categories, while Louisville's defense finished 15th nationally in total defense, 18th in rush defense and 24th in scoring defense. Superlatives from his two seasons as special teams coach included seven blocked kicks, three punt returns for touchdowns and an NCAA single-season record of 77 consecutive extra points by place kicker Arthur Carmody. Carmody, a former walk-on, was also named first team All-Big East Conference under Levine.

Carmody was not the first kicker to benefit from Levine's watchful eye. As special teams coordinator at Louisiana Tech in 2002, he coached Josh Scobee, who earned second team All-WAC honors and was selected by the Jacksonville Jaguars in the 2004 draft. In addition, kick returner Erick Franklin broke the single season school record for kickoff return yardage. Levine spent the 2000 and 2001 seasons working as the offensive graduate assistant at Auburn, where he coached the tight ends. During those two seasons, the Tigers compiled a 16-9 mark while winning back-to-back Southeastern Conference Western Division titles. Robert Johnson, Lorenzo Diamond and Cooper Wallace, three of the tight ends Levine worked with, went on to earn roster spots in the NFL.

Prior to Auburn, Levine worked as an assistant coach at Southwest Texas State University, helping with the wide receivers in 1997 before coaching the tight ends in 1998 and 1999. In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Levine served as co-recruiting coordinator in 1999. Levine began his coaching career in 1996 as an assistant coach and freshman head coach at Highland Park (MN) Senior High, his alma mater.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A walk-on at the University of Minnesota, Levine became a three-time letter-winner at wide receiver for the Gophers and was twice named Academic All-Big Ten. In addition to earning a bachelor's degree in kinesiology with an emphasis in sports management, he also holds a master's degree in physical education from Southwest Texas State University and an educational specialist degree in adult education from Auburn. His playing resumé also includes one season as a wide receiver for the Minnesota Fighting Pike of the Arena Football League. Levine and his wife, Erin, have two sons, Benjamin and Asher.

HISTORY: Wide receiver, Minnesota 1991-95. Pro wide receiver, Minnesota Fighting Pike (Arena Football League) 1996. College coach: Southwest Texas State 1997-99; Auburn 2000-2001; Louisiana Tech 2002; Louisville 2003-2005, joined Panthers in 2006.

secondary

College:	Pittsburgh
Birthdate:	12/18/61
NFL:	13th Season
Panthers:	1st Season

COACHING: Tim Lewis comes to Carolina after serving as defensive coordinator of the New York Giants for three seasons and back-to-back playoff appearances. And like John Fox, who also came to Carolina after holding the same position with the Giants, he brings an impressive resume to the Panthers. That solid foundation was a primary reason that Fox looked to Lewis to work with the Panthers cornerbacks and secondary.

It is clear that Lewis is a coach who can maintain success in the face of adversity because his units continued to perform well in New York despite repeatedly being plagued by injuries. In 2005, the Giants defensive performance improved by 33 points from the previous year following a 40-point improvement in 2004 from the previous season of 2003. During one four-game stretch in 2005 the Giants did not allow a touchdown in a span that covered 244:21, 53 opponent possessions and more than 15 full quarters. The defense did not allow a first-half point in four consecutive games.

As a result, the Giants defense improved from 28th to 12th despite never being able to have their starting linebackers together for any game. During the 2005 season, the Giants allowed an average of 103.5 yards per game and 3.9 yards per rush on the ground compared to figures of 134.8 yards per game and 4.3 yards per rush the previous season.

However, run improvement was only part of Lewis' influence in New York. Under Lewis, the Giants had one of the League's best pass rushing duos in Pro Bowlers Michael Strahan and Osi Umenyioro, whose 26 combined sacks in 2005 were the most by any pair of teammates.

However, it is secondary play where Lewis established his reputation, joining the Steelers as defensive backs coach in 1995. He held that position for five years before being named defensive coordinator of the Steelers in 2000. The Steelers finished seventh in the League defensively in his first season and climbed to first a year later in both total defense, allowing 258.6 yards per game, and rushing defense at 74.7 yards per contest while finishing fourth against the pass.

In 2002 and 2003 the Steelers defense also finished in the NFL's top ten, giving Lewis four straight finishes in the League's elite. The Steelers ranked seventh in 2002, allowing 302.2 total yards per game, first in rushing defense and ninth in 2003, allowing less than 300 yards per game for the second time in three years.

Tim began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Texas A&M in 1987 under Jackie Sherrill, who was his coach as a player at the University of Pittsburgh. He moved to Southern Methodist in 1989 to coach the defensive backs and returned to his alma mater in 1993 before joining the pro ranks with the Steelers two years later.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Lewis was the 11th choice in the NFL Draft in 1983 after an excellent career at the University of Pittsburgh, where he earned an economics degree. As a senior he was a second team NEA All-America and was selected to play in the Senior Bowl and the East-West Shine Bowl. Lewis received the Steve Owen Award as the outstanding defensive player for the North in the Senior Bowl.

He played four seasons for the Packers and twice led or shared the team lead in interceptions before his career ended with a neck injury in the third game of the 1986 season against the Chicago Bears. He finished his playing career with 16 interceptions in 51 games, including a 99-yard interception return for a touchdown against the Rams on November 18, 1984 to set a Packers team record. Lewis was born in Quakertown, PA, and he and his wife, Shawn, have a daughter, Erin Ashley, and a son, Bryce Andrew Timothy.

HISTORY: Defensive back Pittsburgh 1979-1982. Pro cornerback: Green Bay 1983-1986. College coach: Texas A&M 1987-1988, Southern Methodist 1989-1992, Pittsburgh 1993-1994. Pro coach: Pittsburgh 1995-2003, New York Giants 2004-2006. Joined the Panthers 2007.

Dave MAGAZU

offensive line

College:	Springfield (MA)
Birthdate:	6/10/57
NFL:	5th Season
Panthers:	5th Season

COACHING: After four years working with the tight ends, Dave Magazu returns "home" this season to coach the offensive line. Prior to coming to the NFL in 2003 as a tight ends coach, Dave had spent over twenty years coaching offensive lines on the collegiate level.

His move to tight ends was seamless because of the overlap between the two positions. With an emphasis devoted to blocking at the position, three of Carolina's top five rushing seasons have come since Magazu's arrival. In his first season, the tight ends played an integral role in setting a club record of 2,091 yards to rank seventh in the League. The 2005 rushing total of 1,679 yards was fourth highest in team history, and despite losing the top three running backs to injury in 2004, the 1,582 yards on the ground was the fourth-highest total by the Panthers.

Before coming to the NFL, Magazu was regarded as one of the top offensive line coaches in college football. He spent 23 years as a college coach, the last four as Boston College's offensive line coach. At Boston College, he developed a number of pro prospects, including New England Patriots center Dan Koppen, and Chris Snee, the New York Giants second-round draft choice in 2004. During Magazu's tenure at Boston College from 1999-2002, the Eagles annually ranked among the most productive rushing teams in the nation.

His offensive lines were among the best pass blocking units in the country, allowing just six sacks in 2000 and 15 in 2001. Four of his linemen were named All-Big East in 2001 and three earned All-Conference honors in 2002. Tackle Darnell Alford was drafted by the Kansas City Chiefs in 2000, guard Paul Zukauskas was selected by the Cleveland Browns in 2001 and tackle Marc Colombo was a first-round choice by Chicago in 2002 in addition to Koppen's selection by New England in 2003.

Magazu arrived at Boston College after serving two years as co-offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at the University of Memphis from 1997-98. From 1995-96, he coached at Kentucky, where Moe Williams led the SEC in rushing in 1995.

He started his coaching career at Ithaca College in 1980 and moved to Western Michigan in 1981, Eastern Michigan in 1982, Michigan in 1983, Northern Illinois in 1984 and Ball State in 1985. He then spent three years at Navy from 1987-89 before going to Indiana State from 1990-91 and Colorado State from 1992-94. While at Colorado State in 1994, the Rams won the Western Athletic Conference title for the first time in school history and ranked 16th in the nation.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Magazu is a 1980 graduate of Springfield (MA) College, where he was a four-year starter at defensive tackle. He worked toward a master's degree in physical education in 1981 from Ithaca College. Born June 10, 1957, in Taunton, MA, Magazu and his wife, Carrie, have four sons, Anthony, who is playing college football at Kent, Dominick, a freshman on the football team at Boston College, Damon and Roman, and a daughter, Olivia.

HISTORY: Defensive tackle Springfield (MA) College 1976-79. College coach: Ithaca College 1980, Western Michigan 1981, Eastern Michigan 1982, Michigan 1983, Northern Illinois 1984, Ball State 1985-86, Navy 1987-89, Indiana State 1990-91, Colorado State 1992-94, Kentucky 1995-96, Memphis 1997-98, Boston College 1999-2002. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2003.

Mike McCOY

passing game coordinator/ quarterbacks

College:	Utah
Birthdate:	4/1/72
NFL:	8th Season
Panthers:	8th Season

COACHING: In his eighth season with the Panthers coaching staff, Mike is second only to Richard Williamson in service and continues to see his role expand with the team's quarterbacks and in the passing game. He has worked closely with quarterback Jake Delhomme, playing a role in a career that has seen the Panthers quarterback set numerous team records and go to the Pro Bowl.

While Delhomme's success parallels McCoy's career, the former quarterback's work with free agent Brett Basanez is equally impressive. Coming to Carolina as a free agent, Basanez worked his way from practice squad to the active roster under Mike's watchful eye.

McCoy has gained a wealth of experience in a very short time, working with three offensive coordinators and two head coaches. On game day McCoy literally is the voice in the quarterback's ear as he relays the play calls to the quarterback. However, his contributions extend throughout the week in quarterback meetings, on the practice field and with game preparation.

Learning his lessons well, the fruits of McCoy's labor can be seen in the production of Delhomme. After four years, Delhomme ranks first on the team's career passing list in completions, yards and career touchdown passes. More importantly, the Panthers rank seventh in games won since the start of the 2002 season.

Now in his eighth season with the Panthers, McCoy has experienced multiple sides of coaching, working as an offensive assistant, quarterbacks coach and wide receivers coach during his first six seasons. Hired as an offensive assistant in 2000, McCoy was thrust into the quarterbacks coaching role four weeks into the season. As a rookie coach, McCoy worked with quarterback Steve Beuerlein, helping the NFL veteran to one of his best seasons. A year later, he was named wide receivers coach and did a most commendable job with an injury-riddled corps. As their position coach, McCoy helped veteran Isaac Byrd to his best pro season and assisted in the development of rookie Steve Smith.

With the arrival of head coach John Fox in 2002, McCoy once again served as offensive assistant and oversaw tape breakdown for statistical tendencies, assisted in game plan preparation and worked with the Carolina quarterbacks.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: McCoy's resumé includes college and professional playing experience. Originally signed as an undrafted free agent in 1995 by the Denver Broncos, he spent the 1995 season on the Green Bay Packers practice squad. In 1997, he saw his first pro playing time as a member of the Amsterdam Admirals of NFL Europe and earned a roster spot with the San Francisco 49ers, serving as the team's third quarterback for one game. In 1998, McCoy went to training camp with the Philadelphia Eagles and completed his playing career with the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League in 1999. McCoy's college career took a number of turns but ended in dramatic fashion as he threw a game-winning, five-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Kevin Dyson in the final minute to give Utah a 16-13 win over Arizona in the Freedom Bowl. He started his college career at Long Beach State, where he played for legendary head coach George Allen. A native of Novato, CA, McCoy and his wife, Kellie, have a daughter, Olivia, and a son, Luke, and live in Charlotte.

HISTORY: Quarterback Long Beach State 1990-91, Utah 1992-94. Pro quarterback: Amsterdam Admirals (NFLE) 1997, Calgary Stampeders (CFL) 1999. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2000.

Sam MILLS III

defensive quality control

College:	Montclair State
Birthdate:	5/20/78
NFL:	3rd Season
Panthers:	3rd Season

COACHING: Mills is making a name of his own as a hard working member of the Panthers coaching staff. After serving in a dual capacity as a strength and conditioning and defensive assistant in 2005, Mills was promoted to defensive quality control coach in 2006. While Mills may be a relatively new member of the Carolina coaching staff, he is no stranger to the Panthers organization. His father is the only Panthers player to have his number retired and remains the only player inducted into the team's Hall of Honor.

While many of his responsibilities are similar to his original position when he aided defensive assistant Mike Gillhamer and defensive coordinator Mike Trgovac, Mills has added the responsibility of working with defensive line coach Sal Sunseri.

As a defensive assistant, he oversees tape breakdown for statistical tendencies, assists in game plan preparation as well as the planning and production of the defensive play book. Mills is also responsible for all defensive meeting notes as well as getting the defensive cards ready for practice and coordinating the practice schedule with Trgovac and head coach John Fox. On game day Mills charts all plays for the defense in the coaching booth to help determine game tendencies. His duties also include implementing the game weekend itinerary in the players game plan book.

Becoming a member of the coaching staff is a culmination of his path as a youth. When his father was playing for the Panthers, Mills worked as a ball boy at training camp and later worked with equipment manager Jackie Miles before joining the strength and conditioning program.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Mills followed his father's football footsteps when he played at Montclair State College in Montclair, NJ. The elder Mills had been a NCAA Division II All-America at the school as a linebacker. Mills started 20 games in two seasons at defensive back for the Red Hawks. He totaled 71 tackles, two interceptions, one fumble recovery, three forced fumbles and 14 passes defensed. Mills' younger brother Marcus is a graduate assistant coach at Penn State. Mills is single and lives in Charlotte.

HISTORY: Defensive Back Monclair State 1997-1999. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2005.

Jerry SIMMONS
strength and conditioning

College: ..... Fort Hays State
Birthdate: 6/15/54
NFL: ..... 20th Season
Panthers: ..... 9th Season

COACHING: Every team has to have an enforcer to will players to reach their very best. In the Panthers weight room that man is Jerry Simmons, who has overseen the team's training since 1999 as strength and conditioning coach. During that time the Panthers annually have done some of their best work late in the season, and that is a tribute to Simmons.

Simmons has long been regarded among the best in the NFL and was recognized as the NFL's Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year in 2003. Simmons' selection came as no surprise to the players and coaches at Bank of America Stadium. His dedication and a strong work ethic, combined with his extensive knowledge of weight training, have made him a leader in his field. A recent example of his ability to improve performance is tight end Jeff King, whose bench press improved forty pounds and vertical leap increased two inches between his first and second seasons.

Maintaining in-season conditioning is as important as developing offseason strength in today's NFL, and Simmons has proven adept in both facets. He can be found in the weight room each day at 6:00 a.m. with the first arrivals or late in the day with the last to leave. He works to make the days interesting as well as thorough, incorporating yoga, martial arts and running into his programs. For Simmons, developing speed, flexibility and conditioning is as important as power. A stickler to the daily regimen, Simmons monitors the Panthers strength and conditioning program with fervor, and players know a missed workout will not go unnoticed.

Simmons is in his ninth season with the Panthers after eight years with Cleveland/Baltimore. His goal is to maximize players' strength while maintaining flexibility and limiting their exposure to injuries. To reach that end, Simmons develops specialized and highly individualized workout routines for each player on the roster. It was that commitment and expertise that head coach John Fox saw when he arrived at Carolina, leading him to keep Simmons as a mainstay of the Panthers coaching staff. Working closely with the training staff, Simmons not only tries to help prevent injuries with his conditioning program, he plays an integral role in getting players back on the field when injuries occur.

Starting with New England in 1988, Simmons has studied weight training trends in the NFL for nearly 20 years. He spent three seasons with the Patriots before moving to Cleveland in 1991. Simmons began his coaching career at his alma mater, Fort Hays State, in 1978, doubling as a graduate assistant working with linebackers and the school's assistant strength coach before being elevated to head strength coach in 1979. Simmons became the graduate assistant strength coach at Clemson in 1980 and the strength and conditioning coach at Rice from 1980-82 before moving to the University of Southern California from 1983-87. In 1984, Simmons also worked as a strength training site director at the Summer Olympics in Los Angeles.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Simmons played linebacker at Fort Hays State (KS), where he earned a 1977 bachelor's degree in physical education and a 1978 master's degree in secondary school administration and physical education. He began his college playing career at Garden City (KS) Junior College. Born June 15, 1954, Simmons is a native of Elkhart, KS, and a graduate of Elkhart HS, earning All-State honors in football as a senior. Simmons and his wife, Rebecca, have two sons, Joseph and Jordon, and a daughter, Jennifer, and live in Charlotte.

HISTORY: Linebacker Garden City J.C. 1972-74, Fort Hays State 1975-76. College coach: Fort Hays State 1978, Clemson 1979, Rice 1980-82, University of Southern California 1983-87. Pro coach: New England Patriots 1988-90, Cleveland Browns/Baltimore Ravens 1991-98. Joined Panthers in 1999.

Sal SUNSERI

defensive line

College:	Pittsburgh
Birthdate:	8/1/59
NFL:	6th Season
Panthers:	6th Season

COACHING: The Carolina defensive line, which has become synonymous with outstanding play, continues to rank among the best under Sunseri's tutelage. He is in his fifth season coaching the unit and each year the line continues to add to its list of superlatives. Last year was no exception as the Panthers finished seventh in sacks per play while also finishing seventh overall in yardage allowed. Two members of the starting unit, end Julius Peppers and tackle Kris Jenkins, were named to the Pro Bowl squad.

With its seventh place finish in yards allowed, the Panthers have ranked in the top ten three of Sunseri's four seasons as defensive line coach. The previous season, the Panthers ranked fourth against the rush and fifth in sacks per pass play.

After struggling through the first half of the 2004 season, the play of the defensive line ignited a late season surge in the final eight games. The defense recorded 23 sacks, and Peppers was named NFC Defensive Player of the Month for November en route to earning consensus All-Pro recognition and his first Pro Bowl selection.

Beginning as a defensive assistant in 2002, Sunseri took over the Panthers defensive line a year later when Mike Trgovac was named defensive coordinator. It was a seamless transition as the Panthers defensive line remained one of the best in the NFL under Sunseri. In 2003, the Panthers were eighth in overall defense, 11th against the run and seventh in sacks per pass play. The defensive line accounted for 32.5 of the team's 40 total sacks and also produced a pair of Pro Bowl players in Jenkins and end Mike Rucker.

Sunseri has produced at least one Pro Bowl player in each of his four seasons, with Julius Peppers earning postseason trips to Hawaii the last three years. However, his best work may be in nuturing young players such as Jordan Carstens, a former undrafted free agent who became an effective starter before being sidelined with an illness last season. In two straight seasons Carstens had to replace Jenkins, but the line remained one of the best despite the loss.

The veteran assistant coach came to Carolina from Michigan State, where he worked as the Spartans linebackers coach and special teams coordinator in 2001. Prior to Michigan State, Sunseri spent 2000 at Louisiana State in the same capacity and helped the Tigers to an 8-4 record, a Peach Bowl victory and a final ranking of 22nd in the country while coaching a pair of sophomores to second-team All-SEC honors. In 1998 and 1999 Sunseri was defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Alabama A&M after spending 1995-97 as linebackers coach at the University of Louisville.

Working his way up the coaching ladder, Sunseri spent one year each at Illinois State as defensive coordinator in 1994 and Iowa Wesleyan as assistant head coach, defensive coordinator and special teams coach in 1993. He broke into coaching at his alma mater, Pittsburgh, eventually being named assistant head coach to Paul Hackett in 1992.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Sunseri had a storybook career at the University of Pittsburgh, earning a spot as a walk-on and ending his tenure with the Panthers as a team captain and consensus All-America his senior year in 1981. A three-year starter at linebacker for head coach Jackie Sherrill, he helped the Panthers to a combined record of 33-3, including victories in the 1979 Fiesta Bowl, 1980 Gator Bowl and 1981 Sugar Bowl. Sunseri anchored a Pittsburgh defensive unit that led the NCAA in total defense in both 1980 and 1981. He won Defensive MVP honors in the 1982 Senior Bowl and was a 10th-round draft selection of the Pittsburgh Steelers but had his pro career cut short by a training camp knee injury. In 1982, he received a bachelor's degree in communications. Married to the former Roxann Evans, who was a varsity gymnast at Pittsburgh, the couple has two daughters, Jaclyn and Ashlyn, and two sons, Santino and Vinnie.

HISTORY: Linebacker University of Pittsburgh 1978-81. College coach: Pittsburgh 1985-92, Iowa Wesleyan 1993, Illinois State 1994, Louisville 1995-97, Alabama A&M 1998-99, Louisiana State 2000, Michigan State 2001. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2002.

Richard WILLIAMSON

wide receivers

College:	Alabama
Birthdate:	4/13/41
NFL:	25th Season
Panthers:	13th Season

COACHING: An original member of the Panthers coaching staff in 1995, Richard Williamson has coached two Carolina receivers to four Pro Bowl seasons. The latest player to reap the benefits of his expertise is Steve Smith, who made his second consecutive appearance in 2006. Prior to Smith, Muhsin Muhammad made appearances in 1999 and 2004.

Under Williamson, Smith led the NFL in receiving yards in 2005 and tied for the League lead in receptions and touchdown catches. It was a signature season for the young receiver but just another milestone for his veteran coach. Williamson has made a habit of coaxing receivers to new heights while establishing himself as one of the best and most valuable assistants in the National Football League.

Three different Panthers head coaches have benefitted from Williamson's expertise, while player after player has experienced his most productive seasons under his guidance. Smith's performance of 103 receptions for 1,563 yards in 2005 broke the marks of Muhammad, who had established club records for touchdown catches and yards receiving in 2004. Five different players - Muhammad, Smith, Patrick Jeffers, Raghib Ismail and Mark Carrier - have recorded 1,000-yard receiving seasons under Williamson. In 1999, the Panthers had two 1,000-yard receivers when Jeffers joined Muhammad among the League's receiving leaders.

Muhammad was named to the Pro Bowl in 2004 and 1999 after tying for the NFL lead with a then team-record 102 receptions. In 1998, Ismail produced career highs with 69 receptions and 1,024 receiving yards. In 1995, Mark Carrier's 1,002 receiving yards established an expansion record, while Willie Green's 882 yards were a personal career-high.

Ten of Williamson's 12 seasons at Carolina have been spent as wide receivers coach. For most of the 2000 season and all of 2001, Williamson also served as offensive coordinator, but with the arrival of John Fox, he returned "home" as wide receivers coach. Described by former Panthers wide receiver Willie Green as "the best coach I have ever had," Williamson's record of success reinforces Green's belief.

Before arriving in Carolina, Williamson oversaw the development of Carl Pickens and Darnay Scott at Cincinnati. With Kansas City, he coached Stephon Paige, who set an NFL record with 305 yards receiving in a single game. At Tampa Bay, two of his players, Bruce Hill in 1988 and Carrier in 1989, were named the Buccaneers most valuable player.

Williamson joined the Panthers in 1995 from the Cincinnati Bengals, where he was receivers coach from 1992-1994. He previously coached five years at Tampa Bay, serving as receivers coach for four seasons before being elevated to head coach for the last three games of 1990 and the entire 1991 season. He entered the NFL in 1983 as a coach with Kansas City.

As a college coach, Williamson served as head coach at Memphis State from 1975-80, where he twice was named Southern Independent Conference Coach of the Year. Before his post with the Tigers, he served as an assistant at Arkansas and spent seven years as an assistant to the legendary Paul "Bear" Bryant at Alabama.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Williamson played wide receiver for Bryant's Crimson Tide in 1961 and 1962 before joining Alabama's coaching staff. A native of Fort Deposit, AL, Williamson and his wife, Norma, have two grown children, a son, Rich, and a daughter, Caroline. The Williamsons live in Charlotte.

HISTORY: Receiver Alabama 1961-62. College coach: Alabama 1963-67, 1970-71, Arkansas 1968-69, 1972-74, Memphis State 1975-80 (head coach) Pro coach: Kansas City Chiefs 1983-86, Tampa Bay Buccaneers 1987-91 (interim head coach final three games of 1990, head coach 1991), Cincinnati Bengals 1992-94. Joined Panthers in 1995.

NFL:	20th Season
Panthers:	10th Season

When Marty Hurney assumed general manager duties in Carolina, the Panthers were coming off a 1-15 season. Five years later Carolina's 49 victories rank seventh in the National Football League. They have won an NFC championship, an NFC South title and have been to two NFC championship games and a Super Bowl during that time.

With that resume it is no surprise that Forbes.com recently recognized Hurney among the top ten executives in professional sports a year after FoxSports.com had given him the same honor. Under Hurney, the Panthers have developed into a consistent contender, being one of only five teams to reach the final week of regular season play with a chance to make the playoffs between 2003-2006.

Hurney's impact cannot be underestimated. "Hurney is a facilitator, a consensus builder, an administrator, who can pull together all manners of resources, start a very democratic process that works well, then sit with the coach and owner and come to sharp, well-reasoned decisions," writes Michael Wilbon of The Washington Post.

That ability is reflected in a multitude of ways. Hurney was instrumental in the selection of John Fox as Carolina's head coach. He has overseen the college and pro scouting departments that have drafted Julius Peppers, DeShaun Foster, Jordan Gross, Chris Gamble and signed Pro Bowlers Jake Delhomme and Mike Wahle as free agents. The Panthers have compiled a 49-38 overall record in the five years since his appointment in 2002 after going 20-44 the previous four years, and he finished second in the voting for NFL Executive of the Year in 2003.

Possibly no team has made more progress than Carolina in recent seasons, but despite any success, Hurney is still more comfortable behind the scenes. Understated best describes his style, and as Darin Gantt of the Rock Hill Herald noted, "Hurney has shown a knack for calming the waters rather than stirring them."

It was that quality owner Jerry Richardson saw in Hurney when he promoted him to general manager. The promotion was the culmination of a 15-year NFL apprenticeship under some of the game's most astute coaches and executives, and Hurney has demonstrated that the lessons were well-learned. In addition to the on-the-field improvement, he has overseen salary cap adjustments that have left Carolina in a more positive position for the future.

"It is clear that teams cannot separate the salary cap from football personnel decisions, and Marty has a great understanding of how the two areas interact," said team president Mark Richardson. "He is responsible for seeing that the coaching, personnel and salary cap areas work together in a concerted effort."

Hurney joined the Panthers in 1998 from the San Diego Chargers and managed the salary cap under head coaches Dom Capers and George Seifert. As general manager, Hurney oversees the salary cap while coordinating the different areas of football operations with Fox and the team's college and pro scouting departments.

"The way we do things, everybody has a voice, and there is great communication," said Hurney. "You can find 15 people who have had a voice in a decision. That's the important thing to me."

Hurney first caught the eye of former Washington Redskins owner Jack Kent Cooke as a reporter covering the team's championship runs in the 1980s. Developing an association with Cooke, head coach Joe Gibbs and general manager Bobby Beathard, Hurney joined the Redskins public relations department in 1988. In 1990, Hurney moved with Beathard to San Diego, serving as the general manager's assistant with responsibilities that included organizing the scouting department and player contracts and overseeing the day-to-day football administration.

With the advent of the salary cap in 1993, Hurney emerged as the club's specialist in compliance management to the agreement, while earning distinction as both an administrator and negotiator, and played an integral role in San Diego's AFC Championship in 1994. Applying the lessons he has learned over the years under some of the game's most successful leaders, Hurney has become a proven leader himself.

"My role is to make sure everyone is coordinated and on the same page," Hurney said. "It's a group effort. It's communication, having a plan and doing what it takes to make sure you make all decisions with the plan in mind. If the plan and decision making are sound every step along the way, mistakes are minimized, and there is a move in the right direction."

A native of Wheaton, MD, Hurney graduated from Catholic University in Washington, D.C., and began his career as a journalist with the Montgomery Journal in Silver Spring, MD. In 1978, he moved to the Washington Star and worked on that paper for three years before going to the Washington Times, where he spent five years as a beat writer covering the Redskins. Born December 20, 1955, Marty and his wife, Jeannie, have two sons, Joe and James, and live in Charlotte.

Don GREGORY

director of college scouting

College:	Whitworth
Birthdate:	1/15/56
NFL:	11th Season
Panthers:	1st Season

Don Gregory was named Director of College Scouting for the Panthers during the summer of 2006 and immediately began scouring the country in search of talent. Gregory is so diligent in that quest that he chooses to live in Dallas, where accessibility to the country's colleges is seldom more than a two-hour flight away.

Each fall and spring he sees approximately 300 players, stretching from coast-to-coast in a routine reminiscent of Groundhog Day. It's a schedule that has taken him to Las Vegas, Oregon, Washington, Auburn, Clemson, Louisiana, Florida, Texas and California in a ten-day period.

However, searching the country for talent is not something that is new to Gregory, who chose scouting over coaching following a successful college playing career.

"I made that choice largely because of a scout named Gene Bates, who had scouted me when I was in college and became my mentor," says Gregory. "I went into high school coaching for eight years after playing, and Gene was instrumental in my transition into scouting as well as my development there."

Starting with a personnel position with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League, Gregory began his climb up the pro ladder. He worked with the Eskimos from 1986-1990 before going to the World League of American Football to scout the northwest for the San Antonio Riders in 1990 and 1991. Gregory returned to Edmonton in 1992 and remained there until moving to the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the CFL for two years.

Gregory moved to the National Football League in 1995 as a scout with the San Diego Chargers and remained with the team until 1999. While at San Diego, he worked with Panthers general manager Marty Hurney, who was managing the salary cap.

In 2001 a move to the Las Vegas Outlaws of the XFL as Director of Player Personnel took Gregory out of the NFL, but he soon returned as a member of the Kansas City Chiefs scouting department. With the Chiefs, he served as a national scout in the south and southeast for five years.

Familiar with his work ethic and dedication to his profession, Hurney tabbed Gregory a year ago to become the Panthers director of college scouting. However, Gregory chose to keep his home in Dallas rather than move to Charlotte.

"I guess I've made my name in this business by being a grinder and that involves a lot of travel," explains Gregory. "I try to set an example by being on the road myself, and it helps you understand the issues scouts experience. Dallas is pretty centrally located in the middle of the country, so I can go east or west and be pretty much any where within a few hours."

A native of Pearl City, Hawaii, Don moved to Great Falls, Montana in the sixth grade and played college football at Wenatchee Valley College in 1974 and 1975 before transferring in 1976 to Portland State, where he played in the "run and shoot" offense of coach Mouse Davis and quarterback June Jones. Gregory finished his college career at Whitworth College, where he received a bachelor's of science degree in 1979. He then coached high school football in Washington before joining the Eskimos.

Mark KONCZ

director of pro scouting

College:	Kansas
Birthdate:	12/14/66
NFL:	13th Season
Panthers:	13th Season

Mark Koncz has become an integral part of the Panthers success as Director of Pro Personnel, annually providing a steady stream of veteran talent to the team's roster. The ability of Koncz and his staff to discover available talent has paid dividends year after year, whether as an offseason acquisition or an in-season waiver wire pickup. Punter Jason Baker, one of the latest finds, has developed into one of the best in the NFL. Baker joins a long list that includes Stephen Davis, Ricky Proehl, Mark Fields, Brandon Short, Rodney Peete, Brentson Buckner, Terry Cousin and Al Wallace.

All of those players made valuable contributions to the Panthers while other free agent signings have become Carolina mainstays. Pro Bowler Jake Delhomme is the winningest quarterback in team history since signing in 2003. Mike Wahle was named to the Pro Bowl in his first season with the Panthers and helps anchor the offensive line.

The ability of Koncz and his staff was put to the ultimate test in the Panthers injury-plagued season of 2004. Carolina reached midseason with 14 players on injured reserve, leaving the pro personnel department with the challenge of finding replacements. Several of those late arrivals played instrumental roles in the team's second-half rally and reinforced Koncz's reputation for finding talent in a variety of ways.

Year after year, he and his staff have made recommendations that have turned out to be blue chips. In 2003 it was a trio of veteran free agent finds -- Davis, who set a club rushing record with 1,444 yards, Delhomme and Proehl, the big play wide receiver – who helped propel the Panthers to the NFC Championship and Super Bowl.

Sorting through the free agent pool to find the right fit for the Panthers is nothing new for Koncz. In 2002, five free agent finds proved vital in Carolina's rebound during head coach John Fox's first season. Peete started at quarterback for all seven victories, Lamar Smith was the team's leading rusher, Fields led the team in tackles, Cousin was a starting cornerback and Wallace provided invaluable depth at defensive end.

The team's record was not attractive in 2001, but the work of Koncz and his staff resulted in the signing of guard Kevin Donnalley and Buckner at defensive tackle, both starters on the 2003 Super Bowl team.

The pro personnel department is constantly evaluating NFL rosters in preparation for a need, and their time has been well spent. Whether waiver acquisitions such as Rod Smart or former starter Reggie Howard, high profile free agents such as Davis or unknown talents such as Delhomme, it is Koncz's job to be ready to fill a need. When an injury creates that need at a moment's notice, the pro personnel department must be ready to respond with recommendations. As a result, the department constantly pours through video during the course of a year to stay abreast of players on other teams as well as players not on NFL rosters.

Koncz has been scouring for hidden gems since 1998 when he joined the scouting department. He was named the Panthers director of pro scouting after working as the Panthers manager of football operations. In addition to his work of player evaluations throughout the NFL as well as NFL Europa, he coordinates the advance scouting of opponents.

Koncz is a 1990 graduate of the University of Kansas, where he was a three-year letterman and three-year starter for the Jayhawks, serving as team captain his senior season. He earned a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University in 1993 and joined the Panthers in July, 1994, starting in the ticket department. A native of Chicago, IL, Koncz is a graduate of Barrington HS. He and his wife, Yvette, live in Fort Mill, SC and have a daughter, Milena, and a son, Nolan.

PANTHERS TALE

As long as Nate can remember his family has always played an important role in his pre-game preparation. Throughout high school and college Nate called his mom on the phone before each game and she sang to him a poem called 'Persevere.' "When I hear her sing, I remember how she raised me with no slacking," says Nate. "She always taught me that the sky was the limit. This song reminds me that no matter if you stumble, you will always succeed if you continue to work hard."

1 ATLANTA 20, CAROLINA 6

September 10, 2006 - Bank of America Stadium - Charlotte

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 86°, Wind NE 5-8 - ATTENDANCE: 70,036 - TIME: 3:09*

Atlanta running backs Warrick Dunn and Jerious Norwood combined with quarterback Michael Vick to help the Falcons amass 252 yards rushing en route to a 20-6 victory over the Panthers. The 252 yards on the ground were the second-most ever surrendered by the Panthers defense, behind the 337 yards at St. Louis (11/11/01). Dunn was the leading rusher for the Falcons with 132 yards as Atlanta maintained time of possession for 36:28. - Vick threw two touchdowns and finished with a 96.8 passer rating and wide receiver Michael Jenkins led all Falcons receivers with three catches for 77 yards and a touchdown. – Carolina was able to convert only two-of-12 third down opportunities against the Falcons as the only Panther points came on field goals of 54 and 46 yards by John Kasay. - Carolina wide receiver Drew Carter started for an injured Steve Smith and finished the game with five catches for 62 yards in his first career start. – Defensive end Julius Peppers' block of a 50-yard Michael Koenen field goal in the second quarter made him the Panthers all-time leader in blocked kicks with four, ending a tie with defensive tackle Kris Jenkins. – Punter Jason Baker averaged a career-high 51.5 yards on six punts. – Safety Shaun Williams led the team with 12 tackles.

Minnesota kicker Ryan Longwell converted a 19-yard field goal attempt in overtime to give the Vikings a 16-13 victory over the Panthers. The Vikings were able to send the game to overtime after Longwell threw a 16-yard touchown pass to Richard Owens on a fake field goal to tie the score at 13 with 7:48 left in the fourth quarter. – Vikings running back Chester Taylor rushed for 113 yards on 24 carries and receiver Troy Williamson notched six receptions for 102 yards as Minnesota out-gained Carolina 365 yards to 271 yards. – Minnesota converted only two-of-15 third down attempts, but was three-of-three on fourth down attempts. – Minnesota's defense held the Panthers to only three-of-14 third down conversations and forced nine punts. – Carolina defensive end Julius Peppers' three-sack performance allowed him to move into second place on the Panthers all-time career sack list with 43.5. It was Peppers' fifth three-sack game of his career, as he combined with the rest of the defensive line to victimize Brad Johnson for six total sacks. – Peppers block of a 51-yard Longwell field goal in the third quarter marked his second consecutive game with a blocked field goal and set a Panthers single-season record for most blocked kicks in a season. It also increased his career total to five, establishing a team all-time record. – Rookie running back DeAngelo Williams recorded his first NFL rushing attempt and finished the game with 74 yards and a touchdown on 13 carries. – Wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson moved into 18th place all-time in League history with 753 career receptions, surpassing Michael Irvin and Charlie Joiner. He led the Panthers with 106 receiving yards on five receptions including a 40 yard catch that helped set up Carolina's only touchdown of the day. The effort marked his 24th career 100-yard receiving game.

11 WASHINGTON 17, CAROLINA 13

November 26, 2006 - FedExField - Landover

WEATHER: Sunny, 60°, Wind WSW 3 mph - ATTENDANCE: 85,450 - TIME: 3:05

Redskins quarterback Jason Campbell threw a 66-yard touchdown pass to tight end Chris Cooley with 4:26 remaining in the game to provide Washington with the decisive points in a 17-13 victory over the Panthers at FedExField. – Panthers quarterback Jake Delhomme's pass intended for wide receiver Steve Smith was intercepted in the end zone with 1:10 remaining in the fourth quarter to secure the victory for the Redskins. – Delhomme completed 23-of-38 passes for 168 yards and one touchdown with two interceptions and became the Panthers all-time leader with 1,056 completions and 12,855 passing yards, surpassing Steve Beuerlein. – Rookie running back DeAngelo Williams made his first NFL start, starting in place of running back DeShaun Foster, who was sidelined with an injured elbow. Williams led the Panthers with 63 yards rushing on 17 attempts and added three receptions for 23 yards. – The Panthers defense limited Washington to only three first downs passing as Campbell finished with 118 yards on 11-of-23 passing, but threw two touchdowns. The three first downs matched the fewest allowed in team history, previously accomplished at Buffalo (9/10/95). – Jason Baker punted a career-long 70-yarder, bettering his previous best of 68 yards. It equaled the third-longest punt in team history, previously accomplished two times. – The victory for the Redskins was the seventh in eight meetings between the teams. Of the eight games between Carolina and Washington since the series began, seven have been decided by four points or less.

13 New York Giants 27, Carolina 13

December 10, 2006 - Bank of America Stadium - Charlotte

WEATHER: Sunny, 47°, Wind SW 6 mph - ATTENDANCE: 68,350 - TIME: 3:17

Carolina fell victim to turnovers and missed opportunities in a 27-13 loss to the New York Giants although quarterback Chris Weinke established a team record with 423 yards passing and his 34 completions and 61 attempts ranked as the second-highest in team history. The 463 total net yards generated by the offense were the second most in team history. Weinke made his first start since 2002. – Quarterback Jake Delhomme missed a start because of injury for the first time of his career and was inactive with an injured right thumb. His team record for consecutive starts by a quarterback ended at 59, the fourth-longest active streak in the NFL behind Green Bay's Brett Favre, Indianapolis' Peyton Manning and New England's Tom Brady. – The Panthers played virtually the entire game with only two healthy cornerbacks after Christian Morton, who started in place of an injured Chris Gamble, left the game early in the first quarter with an injured hamstring. Gamble and Ken Lucas were both inactive with thigh injuries. Morton's departure left the Panthers with rookies Richard Marshall and Dion Byrum as the team's only cornerbacks. Free safety Mike Minter shifted to nickel back in passing situations and was replaced by Colin Branch. – Carolina was unable to recover a fumble by Giants running back Brandon Jacobs on the Panthers one-yard line and the Giants scored on a two-yard touchdown catch by tight end Jeremy Shockey on the next play to provide them with a 17-10 halftime lead. The Panthers also were unable to recover two other New York fumbles and finished the game with no take-aways. – Trailing 20-10, Weinke was intercepted by Giants safety Gibril Wilson, whose 25-yard return to the Carolina 14-yard line set up the Giants final touchdown. – Wide receiver Drew Carter led the Panthers with career highs of eight receptions and 144 receiving yards with one touchdown to produce the first 100-yard game of his career. His 36-yard scoring catch was his third of the season. – Steve Smith notched five catches for 67 yards, increased his total for the season to 1,025 yards, and joined Muhsin Muhammad as the only players in team history to produce three 1,000-yard receiving seasons.

14 PITTSBURGH 37, CAROLINA 3

December 17, 2006 - Bank of America Stadium - Charlotte

WEATHER: Mostly Sunny, 68°, Wind N 5 mph - ATTENDANCE: 68,947 - TIME: 3:02

Penalties led to Carolina's most decisive loss of the season in the home finale against Pittsburgh. Carolina's defense, which entered the contest ranked first in the NFL in opponents' third-down efficiency, yielded conversions on 10-of-17 Steelers third-down opportunities, a rate of 59 percent, in a 37-3 loss. – With the Steelers leading 10-0, Pittsburgh linebacker James Harrison blocked a Jason Baker punt that was recovered by cornerback Ike Taylor and returned to the Carolina 10-yard line. It marked the first blocked punt surrendered by the Panthers since Nnamdi Asomugha registered one for Oakland (11/17/04). Three plays later, quarterback Ben Roethlisberger completed a 13-yard touchdown pass to running back Najeh Davenport to give the Steelers a 17-0 lead. – Early in the fourth quarter, an illegal procedure penalty nullified a muffed punt by Steelers wide receiver Santonio Holmes that was recovered by Jason Kyle. Holmes returned the re-kick 65 yards for a touchdown to increase the Steelers advantage to 34-3. – Carolina did not force any turnovers and turned it over twice on two interceptions. – Quarterback Chris Weinke started for the Panthers in place of Jake Delhomme who was inactive for his second consecutive game with an injured right thumb. Weinke threw for 170 yards on 18-of-28 passing with one interception. – Panthers kicker John Kasay provided a 37-yard field goal. – Brett Basanez relieved Weinke late in the fourth quarter and completed six-of-11 passes for 56 yards with one interception in his first NFL action. – Cornerback Chris Gamble victimized Roethlisberger for his first career sack.

15 CAROLINA 10, ATLANTA 3

December 24, 2006 - Georgia Dome - Atlanta

WEATHER: Played Indoors on Artificial Turf - ATTENDANCE: 68,834 - TIME: 2:49*

The Panthers amassed a team-record 52 rushing attempts for 183 yards, maintained possession for 41:47 and limited Atlanta's top-ranked rushing attack to 83 yards en route to a 10-3 victory over the Falcons. – Running back DeShaun Foster led the Panthers with 102 yards on 28 carries and rookie running back DeAngelo Williams rushed for 82 yards on a career-high 21 carries. While utilizing a formation in which Williams lined up at quarterback and took direct snaps from the center, Carolina converted seven-of-eight third down opportunities and the rookie gained 36 of his rushing yards. For the game, the Panthers, who entered the contest ranked last in the NFL with a third down efficiency of 29.3 percent, were successful on eight-of-16 third downs. – The Panthers defense limited the Falcons, who entered the game with the League's top-ranked rushing attack averaging 192.6 yards per game, to 83 yards rushing and forced two turnovers. Cornerback Ken Lucas and safety Shaun Williams each notched interceptions of Atlanta quarterback Michael Vick. – Quarterback Chris Weinke made his third consecutive start in place of Jake Delhomme, who was inactive with an injured thumb. Weinke threw a one-yard touchdown pass to rookie tight end Jeff King that capped a 16-play, 10:36 drive that included only two passing plays. The possession ranked as the second-longest drive in team history behind a drive that consumed 11:18 at Buffalo (11/27/05) and required the highest number of plays of the season. The one-yard touchdown catch by King marked both the first catch and first touchdown of his career. – Lucas' interception set up a 42-yard field goal by kicker John Kasay late in the second quarter to increase the Panthers lead to 10-3. – Defensive end Julius Peppers posted two of the Panthers three sacks, giving him a career-high and team-leading 13 sacks. The game was his 13th career outing with at least two sacks. – Focused on establishing the run, Carolina matched a team record with 13 rushing first downs and established single-game marks with one passing first down, seven pass attempts, four completions and 11 net passing yards.

It marked the sixth season of his 16-year career that he has reached the 100-point plateau. Punter Jason Baker generated a career-high net average of 47.2 on five punts. – Wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson notched three catches for 24 yards to move into a tie with Henry Ellard for 15th all-time in NFL history for most receptions with 814. – Rookie linebacker James Anderson started in place of an injured Thomas Davis and posted the first two sacks of his career. Draft's first quarter sack increased his total to a career high 5.5 for the season. Rookie cornerback Richard Marshall garnered his first career sack. – The victory over New Orleans improved the Panthers record to 5-1 against NFC South opponents, with the only loss coming in the season opener versus Atlanta (9/10/06).

Bank of America Stadium contains over 100,000 cubic yards of concrete, enough to: cover 70 acres with four-inches of concrete; cover 93 football fields with one-inch of concrete; fill a city block with seven-and-a-half stories of concrete; cover Uptown Charlotte with two-inches of concrete; build over a thousand 3,000-square foot homes.

PANTHERS SCHEDULE through 2009

The NFL scheduling format includes the following elements:

- There is an increased common-opponent emphasis with every team in a division playing against 14 common opponents.
- All teams will play each other on a regular basis, home and away, for a more consistent presentation of attractive games, eliminating the many schedule aberrations of the past.
- Teams are guaranteed to play all non-division opponents in their conference at least once every three years and at home at least once every six years.
- Every AFC team plays every NFC team once every four years and at home once every eight years.
- A team's record from the previous year has less of a bearing on its schedule, with only two (rather than four) opponents being based on the previous year's standings, thus eliminating the so-called "easy" fifth place schedules.
- The division in which a team resides is less of a factor in a team's won-loss record with 10 of 16 games each year being against non-division teams.

NFC Divisional Playoffs
Carolina 26, Dallas 17
January 5, 1997 - Ericsson Stadium - Charlotte

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 67°, Wind SW 15 mph - ATTENDANCE: 72,808 - TIME: 2:58

In the first playoff game in team history, the Carolina Panthers stuck to a formula that had worked all season, using an opportunistic offense, a Sam Mills led defense, solid special teams and an uplifting record-sized crowd to defeat the defending Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys 26-17.

Running back Anthony Johnson earned his sixth 100-yard game of the season behind a performance by the offensive line which did not allow quarterback Kerry Collins to be sacked all day. Collins completed a workmanlike 12 of 22 passes for 100 yards and two touchdowns and directed the team to 17 first-half points. The defense supplied a team effort with interceptions by Chad Cota, Pat Terrell and Mills and sacks by Lamar Lathon and Les Miller, while successfully executing three goal-line stands from inside their own five-yard line. Kicker John Kasay converted on all four field goal attempts.

The Cowboys took a 3-0 lead on a 22-yard field goal before a Collins pass to Walls following a 68-yard drive put the Panthers ahead 7-3. After trading touchdowns, the Cowboys got within three following a Panthers safety when a snap sailed over punter Rohn Stark's head. Cota's interception on Dallas' ensuing possession, however, set up a 24-yard Kasay field goal and a 17-11 halftime lead.

The two teams traded field goals in the third quarter and again to begin the fourth, with Chris Boniol converting twice from 21 and Kasay twice from 40. After the Panthers downed a Stark punt at the one, Terrell's interception set up a Kasay 32-yard conversion before Mills' interception and return to the one, sealed the game.

NFC Championship
Green Bay 30, Carolina 13
January 12, 1997 - Lambeau Field - Green Bay

WEATHER: Cold and Windy, 3°, Wind W 10 mph - ATTENDANCE: 60,216 - TIME: 3:04

On a day with wind chill tempratures at more than 20 below zero, the Carolina Panthers surrendered 17 second-quarter points and 479 yards of total offense to the Green Bay Packers and fell one game short of the Super Bowl, 30-13.

The Panthers got ahead early following a Sam Mills interception at the Green Bay 12, which was returned to the two. Kerry Collins found fullback Howard Griffith all alone in the end zone two plays later for a 7-0 Carolina lead.

After Brett Favre drove the Packers for their first touchdown, the Panthers replied with a John Kasay 22-yard field goal following a Lamar Lathon recovery of a Favre fumble. The Packers came back with a touchdown and a field goal before the half, however, and held a 17-10 advantage at the break.

Both teams traded field goals to open the second half before a Dorsey Levens 66-yard reception off a screen set up a Packers touchdown. A Packers fourth-quarter field goal following a Panthers fumble supplied the 30-13 margin.

Mills led the defense with 14 tackles and an interception while Collins completed 19 of 37 passes for 215 yards, with a touchdown and two interceptions. Willie Green led all Panthers in receiving with 51 yards on five receptions.

NFC Wildcard Game
Carolina 29, Dallas 10
January 3, 2004 - Ericsson Stadium - Charlotte

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 63º, Wind SSW 9 mph - ATTENDANCE: 72,324 - TIME: 2:56

Behind a dominating defense, Carolina defeated the Dallas Cowboys, 29-10, at Ericsson Stadium to reach the second-round of the playoffs for the first time since the 1996 season. The Panthers held the Cowboys to 204 yards of total offense while not giving up any penalties or turnovers.

Quarterback Jake Delhomme completed 18-of-29 passes for 273 yards and a touchdown, running back Stephen Davis rushed 26 times for 104 yards, wide receiver Steve Smith caught five passes for 135 yards and a touchdown, and kicker John Kasay converted on all five of his field goal attempts.

On Carolina's third play from scrimmage, Delhomme hit Smith in the flat, and Smith raced 70 yards to the Cowboys one-yard line. Four plays later Kasay booted his first field goal from 18 yards out, and the Panthers never looked back.

Carolina took advantage of field position later in the first quarter as Kasay made his second field goal, this time from 38 yards, to give the Panthers a 6-0 lead. In the second quarter, Carolina started another drive in Dallas territory, and Davis rambled 23 yards for a touchdown to give the Panthers a 13-0 lead.

Cowboys kicker Billy Cundiff put the Cowboys on the board with a 37-yard field goal late in the second quarter. Carolina got one more field goal from Kasay to close out the first half leaving the score 16-3 at the break.

The Panthers added a 32-yard Delhomme-to-Smith touchdown pass and Kasay's fourth field goal to stretch the lead to 26-3 before Dallas answered with a nine-yard touchdown run by quarterback Quincy Carter. Kasay's fifth field goal with 3:12 remaining provided the final margin.

Panthers middle linebacker Dan Morgan led the defense with 12 tackles, while Al Wallace, Kris Jenkins and Reggie Howard contributed a sack a piece. Davis posted his eighth 100-yard rushing game of the season.

NFC Divisional Playoffs
Carolina 29, St. Louis 23 (2 OT)
January 10, 2004 - Edward Jones Dome - St. Louis

WEATHER: Played Indoors on Artificial Turf - ATTENDANCE: 66,165 - TIME: 4:06

The Panthers defeated the host St. Louis Rams 29-23 in double overtime at the Edward Jones Dome to earn their second trip to the NFC Championship Game. Steve Smith took a pass from Jake Delhomme and sprinted to a game-winning touchdown to close-out the game, the fifth longest in NFL history and the longest ever for the Panthers.

The Carolina defense held the Rams to two field goals in the first half before Panthers wide receiver Muhsin Muhammad recovered a deflected lateral by Delhomme in the end zone for a touchdown. Each team added a field goal each, to give the Panthers a one-point lead at the half, 10-9.

The Panthers built an 11-point lead in the fourth quarter off a Brad Hoover touchdown and John Kasay field goal, but the Rams scored 11 points in the last 2:39 of regulation to force overtime.

The Panthers took the opening drive of overtime to the St. Louis 22-yard line, but a delay-of-game penalty canceled Kasay's successful 40-yard field goal. Kasay then missed the second attempt three plays later from 45 yards out.

The Rams drove to the Carolina 35-yard line on their first possession in overtime, but kicker Jeff Wilkins, who had already made five field goals, was inches short on a 53-yard attempt.

The Rams then drove to the Panthers 38-yard line on their ensuing possession when cornerback Ricky Manning Jr. outwrestled Rams receiver Torry Holt for the ball and came down with the interception.

Facing third-and-14 from their own 31-yard line on the first play of the second overtime, Delhomme hit Smith on a slant pattern for 69 yards and the game-winning points.

The Panthers outgained the Rams 485 yards to 380, including 216 to 64 in rushing yardage. They won the time of possession battle 41:06 to 34:04 and held the Rams to just six possessions and 12 points through the first three quarters.

Delhomme completed 16-of-26 passes for 290 yards, with one touchdown and one interception for a quarterback rating of 96.6. Running back DeShaun Foster stepped in for an injured Stephen Davis, who left the game in the second quarter, and contributed 95 yards on 21 carries.

NFC Championship
Carolina 14, Philadelphia 3
January 18, 2004 - Lincoln Financial Field - Philadelphia

WEATHER: Mostly Cloudy, 33º, Wind WNW 19 mph - ATTENDANCE: 67,862 - TIME: 2:56

In just their ninth season of existence, the Panthers claimed a bid to Super Bowl XXXVIII by defeating the Philadelphia Eagles 14-3 at Lincoln Financial Field in the NFC Championship game. Carolina took advantage of four interceptions, three by rookie cornerback Ricky Manning, to hold the Philadelphia offense to only one field goal.

The first quarter was scoreless as both teams punted twice. Early in the second quarter, a Carolina fumble was recovered by Jermaine Wiggins to gain the first down and allow the Panthers to continue what would be the first scoring drive of the game.

On first-and-10 from the Philadelphia 24-yard line, Delhomme hit wide receiver Muhsin Muhammad in the end zone for the score. A John Kasay PAT kick gave the Panthers a 7-0 lead.

The Eagles answered with a 14-play, 44-yard drive that culminated with a 41-yard field goal by David Akers. The Eagles were driving again in the final two minutes of the half when Manning grabbed his first interception.

On the opening drive of the second half, the Eagles drove to the Panthers 18-yard line, but Manning again came up with the big play, intercepting Donovan McNabb at the 14-yard line.

A hit by Mike Minter on Eagles wide receiver James Thrash enabled Manning to record his third interception and put the Panthers in position for their final score. With 4:18 remaining in the third quarter, running back DeShaun Foster produced the game's second touchdown, breaking five tackles and reaching over the goal line on a one-yard run.

The Eagles went three-and-out on their final two possessions of the third quarter, and their final threat ended midway through the fourth quarter when backup quarterback Koy Detmer, who replaced an injured McNabb, was intercepted by Dan Morgan at the Carolina 11-yard line to thwart the Eagles final significant scoring opportunity.

Morgan led Carolina with 13 tackles and one interception while Brentson Buckner contributed 1.5 sacks. Running back Stephen Davis added 76 yards on 19 carries as the Panthers rushed for a total 155 yards.

SUPER BOWL XXXVIII
NEW ENGLAND 32, CAROLINA 29
February 1, 2004 - Reliant Stadium - Houston

WEATHER: Played indoors on grass - ATTENDANCE: 71,525 - TIME: 4:05

In their first Super Bowl, the Carolina Panthers scored 19 fourth-quarter points to tie New England with one minute remaining, but kicker Adam Vinatieri converted a 41-yard field goal to give the Patriots a 32-29 victory for their second Super Bowl victory in three seasons.

The first quarter was scoreless, with help from the Panthers defense who kept New England off the board by blocking one Vinatieri field goal and withstanding another missed attempt.

In the second quarter, a Carolina fumble on the 19-yard line was recovered by defensive tackle Richard Seymour and set up a Tom Brady five-yard touchdown pass to Deion Branch. The touchdown broke the tie with 3:10 remaining in the half, the longest a Super Bowl had ever gone without a score.

Quarterback Jake Delhomme led the Panthers on an eight-play, 95-yard drive, the second longest in Super Bowl history, that culminated with a Delhomme-to-Steve Smith touchdown pass from 39 yards out.

Brady completed four of six passes for 78 yards, and with 23 seconds remaining in the half, hit wide receiver David Givens with another five-yard touchdown pass to put the Patriots back in front, 14-7.

Kris Mangum returned a kickoff to the Panthers 47-yard line and after a 21-yard run by Stephen Davis, the Panthers called timeout with five seconds left. John Kasay booted a 50-yard field goal as the first half expired to make it 14-10.

On the second play of the fourth quarter, Patriots running back Antowain Smith scored on a two-yard run that extended the New England lead to 21-10.

DeShaun Foster finished a six-play, 81-yard Panther drive with a 33-yard touchdown run, the fourth-longest run in Super Bowl history. Carolina missed on their two-point attempt and the score was 21-16.

New England drove down the field and threatened to extend their lead once again, but Reggie Howard intercepted Brady's pass in the end zone and returned it to the 10-yard line.

Three plays later, Delhomme hit Muhsin Muhammad for an 85-yard touchdown, giving the Panthers their first lead with 7:06 remaining in the game. The Panthers missed on another two-point attempt, keeping the score 22-21.

The scoring continued as the Patriots drove 68 yards in 11 plays, ending with a Mike Vrabel touchdown. New England converted their two-point attempt and led 29-22 with 2:55 remaining.

Delhomme then drove his team 80 yards on just seven plays, hitting Ricky Proehl across the middle for a 12-yard touchdown that tied the game with 1:13 remaining. However, Brady mounted one last scoring drive to set up Vinatieri at the Carolina 34-yard line for the winning kick.

NFC Divisional Playoffs
Carolina 29, Chicago 21
January 15, 2006 - Soldier Field - Chicago

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy,40° - ATTENDANCE: 62,209 - TIME: 3:23

Carolina totaled 434 yards against the NFL's second-ranked defense in a 29-21 victory over the Chicago Bears in the NFC Divisional Playoffs. – The contest marked the Panthers fourth consecutive postseason road victory to equal the NFL record for the most consecutive road postseason victories, previously accomplished by Dallas from 1975-81. – The Panthers became the fourth team since 1990 to win an NFC Divisional Playoff game on the road. – Carolina allowed one sack against the Bears after allowing a season-high eight in their regular season contest at Chicago (11/20/05) and scored 29 points against a Bears defense that allowed a League-low 12.9 points per game during the regular season and a total of 61 points at home during the regular season. – Wide receiver Steve Smith amassed 218 yards receiving, the most in team history and fourth-highest total in a playoff game in NFL history, and two touchdowns on 12 receptions, which tied for the second-most catches in NFL postseason history. – Quarterback Jake Delhomme registered his second career 300-yard passing effort in the playoffs and his fifth postseason game with a passer rating of 100 or more. – The Panthers defense yielded only three-of-13 third down conversions against the Bears. With the victory, head coach John Fox became only the fifth head coach in NFL history to record at least four postseason road wins.

NFC Championship
Seattle 34, Carolina 14
January 22, 2006 - Qwest Field - Seattle

WEATHER: Overcast, 48° - ATTENDANCE: 67,837 - TIME: 3:09

Seattle's defense forced four turnovers and held the Panthers to 212 total yards in a 34-14 victory in the 2005 NFC Championship Game. – Carolina was limited to 36 yards by the Seahawks fifth-ranked rushing defense and converted only one-of-nine third down opportunities. Interceptions on consecutive Carolina possessions enabled Seattle to transform a 7-0 lead into a 17-0 advantage in the second quarter. – Wide receiver Steve Smith established an NFL record for the most catches in a postseason with 27, surpassing the previous mark of 23 set by Anthony Carter with Minnesota in the 1987 postseason. Smith's 59-yard punt return for a touchdown enabled him to become the first player in NFL history to score a touchdown on a run, pass and punt return in the same postseason. – Running back Nick Goings, who started in place of the injured DeShaun Foster, was shaken up in the first quarter and did not return to the game.

ED BLOCK COURAGE AWARD

The Ed Block Courage Award is named after Ed Block who was the Head Athletic Trainer of the Baltimore Colts from 1954-1977. He was inducted in the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA) Hall of Fame in 1974. In addition to his accomplishments with the Baltimore Colts, Eddie worked for 13 years as a physical therapist for Kernan's Hospital for Crippled Children, authored numerous papers and was a presenter at several national programs. He also served on NATA's original Athletic Injuries Committee. A Fellow, American College of Sports Medicine, Eddie has an extreme interest in research, injury prevention and conditioning. He served as a consultant to NASA, beginning with the original in-space flight training program in 1967. In 1973, Eddie started early research on the use of diagnostic ultrasound at Johns Hopkins Hospital for use in evaluating musculoskeletal injuries.

Eddie was, perhaps most importantly, a great humanitarian who tirelessly gave of himself to help improve the lives of children. As an Army Lieutenant under General Patton in World War II, he was the recipient of a Purple Heart. As an athletic trainer, he was a master in his chosen field. As a person, he was compassionate and giving. He stood for courage and championed the cause of all those who displayed that characteristic. His work and philosophy continue today through the Foundation that bears his name.

BANK OF AMERICA STADIUM

Made possible by the commitment of tens of thousands of Panthers fans throughout the Carolinas, the open-air, natural-grass Bank of America Stadium was constructed specifically for football and offers both amenities and sightlines unparalleled in the National Football League. Designed by HOK Sports Facilities Group, Bank of America Stadium has proven to be a proud fixture in the Charlotte skyline.

Now in its 12th season, Bank of America Stadium's reputation has continued to grow, making it the model for new stadiums in other NFL markets.

"It is very special," said Robert Kraft, owner of the New England Patriots. "This is the future and the prototype of what every NFL city should have."

When Jerry Richardson first entertained the idea of bringing professional football to the Carolinas, he wanted to build a stadium that was privately financed and would be a fitting home to professional sports' crown jewel: an NFL franchise. The result was Bank of America Stadium, a $187 million, privately financed feat of engineering and luxury, home to the Carolina Panthers since 1996 after the team played its first season in Clemson, SC.

Reviews were enthusiastic from the beginning. Said Pittsburgh Steelers Owner Dan Rooney, ". . . A first-class facility. I think it will do a lot for the team. But the fans are the ones that are going to like it. This is an amazing facility."

"Even though it's mammoth, it doesn't overpower you," said former Cleveland Browns President and Chief Executive Officer Carmen Policy. "There seem to be so many fan amenities built into it that say, 'Welcome. You're going to enjoy seeing a football game here. You're going to have a great event-type of experience.'"

The construction was partially financed through the sale of permanent seat licenses, or PSLs, which provide the holders with the right to purchase season tickets to Carolina Panthers home games. Unveiled with prices that originally ranged from $600 to $5,400, depending on location, Panthers fans responded with orders for more than 41,632 PSLs during the first four days the seats were available, selling out more than 8,000 club seats and all 104 luxury suites. (Club seat capacity later was expanded to 11,000, and the total number of suites was increased to 158.) By the time the PSL drive ended in September 1993, Panthers fans had delivered a clear message to the NFL, which responded by unanimously awarding the League's 29th franchise to the Carolinas.

"The model I would hold out, and I hope the country will look at is the one Jerry Richardson and the leaders of Charlotte used in building what is the best football stadium in America without public funding through a very intelligent, very wise permanent seat license program," said former NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue at Super Bowl XXX.

The PSLs represent more than $100 million of the total construction cost, financed entirely with private money. Led by Richardson, groundbreaking took place on April 22, 1994 at the stadium's uptown site, beginning the two-plus year construction effort headed by a joint venture of F.N. Thompson of Charlotte and Turner Construction Company of New York.

Bank of America Stadium was created to provide Panthers fans with an abundance of amenities, ranging from the individual cup and program holders to the generous ratio of concession and restroom facilities to gigantic scoreboards, a state-of-the art sound system and wide, comfortable seats. Said Richardson in his dedication of the stadium, "This stadium is dedicated to believers. Those who had hope in the spirit of our Carolinas, trust in a promise and faith in the unseen. For all who dared dream, and their children who will share a great legacy, we dedicate this symbol of unity."

The statues were placed at the northeast corner of the stadium where they will be joined by statues of future inductees.

"There is no one more appropriate than Mike to start our Hall of Honor," said Panthers Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson at the time of McCormack's induction. "The Carolina Panthers would not even exist without Mike's contributions, and he epitomizes all we want the Panthers to symbolize."

While McCormack's National Football League career spanned five decades and a number of teams, he may have left his most indelible mark on the Panthers. Starting as a consultant in 1989, McCormack provided an invaluable contact for the Richardson ownership group as they lobbied NFL ownership and hierarch for credibility early in the expansion process. After the Panthers overcame overwhelming odds to land the franchise by a unanimous vote in October 1993, McCormack was first general manager before being named president.

"Mike provided a road map for our organization, and we have reaped the benefits of his foresight and experience," says successor Mark Richardson. "By his induction as the original member of our Hall of Honor, it sets a high standard for all who follow."

If anyone could meet McCormack's standard it is Mills, who became a Panthers standard-bearer.

"Sam Mills has meant a lot to this organization and has set a high standard for our players both on and off the field. It is only fitting that he is recognized with the Carolina Panthers highest honor," said Jerry Richardson.

While Mills had a long NFL career, his accomplishments with the Panthers were the basis of his selection. His memorable interception return for a touchdown spurred Carolina to the first win in team history in 1995, and his interception against Dallas sealed the Panthers win in the NFC divisional playoff following the 1996 season.

Mills played 15 years as a professional, starting 171-of-181 NFL games and earning five Pro Bowl selections. Mills appeared in his final Pro Bowl as a representative of the Panthers in 1996 at the age of 37.

Regarded as one of the most savvy players in the game, Mills led his team in tackles 10 times and eclipsed the 100-tackle plateau in eight seasons. As a prized unrestricted free agent in 1995, he became the cornerstone of the Panthers defense and was the only player to start every game during the Panthers first three seasons.

With McCormack and Mills, an administrator and coach were recognized in the Hall of Honor. In the opening regular season game against Green Bay in 2004, the PSL owners who made the stadium and franchise possible were also honored at halftime. The Panthers sold over 60,000 Permanent Seat Licenses to help fund the construction of Bank of America Stadium.

"The stadium and team would not be here without the PSL Owners and they have been the backbone of our support," says President Mark Richardson. "It was appropriate to include them in the Hall of Honor for making a NFL franchise in the Carolinas a reality."

TRAINING CAMP

The Carolina Panthers summer training camp home is at Wofford College in Spartanburg, S.C.

The Panthers are housed in Wofford's sterling 60,000 square-foot Richardson Physical Activities Building, which boasts a spacious weight room, locker room and training facilities in addition to coaches offices and meeting rooms.

A member of the Southern Conference and NCAA Division I, Wofford is the smallest school in the nation playing Division I football with its enrollment of 1,250.

The Terriers compete in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS), formerly known as Division I-AA.

Over the last five seasons, Wofford is the SoCon's second-winningest football team with a 42-17 overall record and .712 winning percentage. The Terriers have been ranked in the final FCS poll in four of the last five seasons. The 2003 Terrier football team captured the Southern Conference championship and advanced to the FCS national semifinals.

Wofford football coach Mike Ayers was the 2003 recipient of the Eddie Robinson Award as the Division I-AA National Coach of the Year. He is among the winningest coaches in the nation with 123 victories in 19 seasons.

Academically, Wofford's football team is among the top 10 percent in the nation as judged by the Academic Progress Rate (APR) and has been given public recognition by the NCAA in each of the last two seasons. The Terriers have place 43 student-athlets on the Academic All-Southern Conference team in the last four years, more than double the number of the second place team. Wofford has had at least 10 players on the academic squad each year.

In recent years, the Wofford men's basketball team has posted victories over Cincinnati, Clemson, Virginia Tech and Auburn. The baseball team has defeated South Carolina and Tennessee in the last two years.

Among its alumni, the athletic program counts Panthers Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson as well as former Air Force head football coach Fisher DeBerry.

Wofford receives strong support from its alumni and friends. The Terrier Club, with 100 percent of all contributions supporting scholarships for Wofford student-athletes, raised a record $1.4 million in 2006.

According to Fiske Guide to Colleges 2006, "Wofford offers the rigorous academics of a small liberal arts college with rough-and-tumble Division I athletics." The Insider's Guide to the Colleges 2006, published by the Yale Daily News states that "Wofford's active student body puts their full support behind their impressive athletic program."

Having conducted its first session during the 1854-55 academic year, Wofford is one of only a handful of American colleges of that era to have operated continuously on its original site. Over 5,000 "noble trees" have been planted since 1992. The entire 150-acre campus is maintained as a national arboretum.

Wofford ranks second in the nation among baccalaureate institutions in the percentage of students receiving academic credit for studies abroad.

The first independent college in South Carolina to receive a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Wofford has a proud history. Among its graduates are the founders of Duke and Vanderbilt universities, the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and the National Beta Club.
